Alto Wants In With Tiburon If It Cannot Be City

By ELLEN BRY

Petitioners from the Alto area last night asked to become a part of Tiburon if they cannot form their own City of Alto.

Petitions with 124 signatures were turned over to Tiburon officials yesterday afternoon, asking that Tiburon grant permission at the "first possible, permissible moment" for annexation petitions to be circulated.

The first possible moment will come if the Local Agency Formation Commission turns down a petition from many of the same persons to incorporate the City of Alto. No date for commission decision has been set, but it is expected next month.

The petitions favoring annexation to Tiburon include signatures of those who would prefer to remain in an unincorporated area or, if necessary, form their own city to keep from becoming part of Mill Valley. Petitions also include signatures of those whose first choice would be to join with Tiburon. They also include signatures of persons who say they want to incorporate the Alto area and then join it with the City of Tiburon—but if they cannot incorporate, want to annex to Tiburon.

The Tiburon City Council last September adopted a resolution setting its "sphere of interest and potential future foundary" to include the entire Tiburon Peninsula, except Belvedere, to Highway 101 and the Corte Madera town limits.

One series of petitions with 22 names is dated January 22 and was turned over to the city about three weeks ago, City Mgr. Lawrence D. Rose reported after the council meeting last night at Del Mar School.

Backers of possible Alto annexation to Tiburon last Thursday met for three hours with councilmen Leo Souza and Anne L. Ellinwood.

At the meeting were Stanley J. Gallagher, one of the leaders in Alto self-determination, and Carl O. Heynen Jr., chief of the Alto-Richardson Bay Fire District, who wants to maintain his district.

The first petitions were bolstered by the additional 102 signatures gained since the meeting.

GOLD RUSH RELICS?

His Rainbow Ended In Pot Full Of Eggs

Steamshovels at the project, in the area which once formed Yerba Buena Cove, turned up their most fascinating find yesterday: a cache of clay pots, some of which contained small brown eggs.

Moore thinks the eggs are pheasant eggs brought over by Chinese 100 years ago in the days when Yerba Buena Cove formed a harbor. Many abandoned ships were sunk when the harbor was filled in to make way for expansion of San Francisco.

Moore took some of the pots and eggs home, washed them and added them to his growing collection of objects salvaged from the Gateway and other projects. Mrs. Moore said today her husband has turned up more finds on his present job than on any other. Among the other objects were old whisky jugs and soda pop bottles.

The steamshovels have also dug up an anchor chain, clay pipes, and a human jaw bone at the building site at Clay and Davis streets.

U.S. Sends Jets With Yank Pilots Into Viet Battle

France, Russia Agree To Work For Conference To End Conflict

COMBINED AP & UPI

SAIGON — American pilots are flying U. S. jets in combat for the first time in South Viet Nam.

U.S. B57 light jet bombers struck today at concentrations of Viet Cong troops north of Saigon where the Communists mounted one of their most critical drives of the war.

It was the first time the Americans have flown their jets in such actions within South Viet Nam, although U.S. jets have hit targets in Laos and have carried out American strikes against North Viet Nam. Previously, the U.S. jets had been limited to reconnaisance missions within South Viet Nam, and propeller-driven planes had been used for combat.

In the stepped up Communist offensives today three Americans were killed and nine wounded. Heavy South Viet Nam troop losses also were reported.

In Paris, France announced today it has agreed to work with the Soviet Union in pressing for an international conference to settle the conflict in Viet Nam. The Soviet Union took the initiative in making the proposal.

Diplomatic sources in Moscow said the Soviet Union would seek neutralization of South Viet Nam at such a conference, a course France has advocated for North Viet Nam, Cambodia and Laos as well.

President Johnson was said to be unconvinced that the Communists are ready for serious negotiations and he wants to retain flexibility of action, both diplomatically and militarily.

Nevertheless, U.S. Ambassador John Moors Cabot met with Red Chinese Ambassador Wang Kuo-chuan in Warsaw, Poland, for an hour and 50 minutes and it was presumed the war in Viet Nam was discussed. Neither would confirm this after the meeting broke up.

Information Minister Alain Peyrefitte announced the French decision to cooperate with the Soviet Union on an international conference.

Soviet Ambassador Sergei Vinogradov called at Elysee Palace for a 20-minute discussion yesterday with President Charles de Gaulle and the question then was discussed at the weekly Cabinet meeting this morning, Peyrefitte said.

In Washington, President Johnson has opened the door a crack to negotiations in dent Johnson has opened the Five-Arrest Driver Given Jail Sentence

Six Months, Fine Follow Repeated Drunken Driving

A minimum six-months county jail sentence and possibility of an additional four months were meted out to George Albert Barnett, 42, by Judge Joseph G. Wilson in Marin Municipal Court yesterday for five drunken driving convictions.

Barnett, former co-owner of San Rafael Associates Inc., and resident at 125 Crane Drive, San Anselmo, also has two prior drunken driving convictions.

Judge Wilson also placed Barnett on three years supervised probation, forbade use of intoxicants during that period, and said Barnett could have work furlough privileges if he meets requirements.

He further fined Barnett $250 for each of the five cases. Barnett informed the court he couldn't pay the fines—totalling $1,250—and Judge Wilson sentenced him to an additional four months in jail. The latter, however, was suspended on condition that Barnett serve the six months minimum without incident.

A last condition imposed on Barnett was that he continue seeking psychotherapy treatments. Barnett has been in the psychiatric ward of Veterans Hospital in Martinez. His drunken driving offenses occurred in Marin County on March 31, Oct. 17, Nov. 10, and Dec. 28 of last year, and Jan. 16 of this year.

PARKING FEE

Pencil Costs May Go Up In Sausalito

By BRUCE COLEMAN

Sausalito merchants are unhappy over changes being made in the plaza parking lot, one merchant claiming, "It's going to cost a shopper 35 cents for a 10 cent pencil."

To trade Fair owner Luther W. Conover, the lot reconversion from meter to attendants has meant loss of Gray Line tourist buses which he says are "a pretty vital part of our business."

Conover claims the layout of the lot is such that cars are packed so tightly that it is impossible to drive buses to the Trade Fair aboard ferry boat, Berkeley, for unloading.

"Most of the merchants are

Supervisors Veto Wolfe Grade Plan

Split Vote Supports Parents

By GILES BIXLER

Opponents of extension of Wolfe Grade to the Bon Air Bridge in Kentfield swung three county supervisors to their side last night in an emotion-packed meeting at the Civic Center.

Supervisors voted 3-2 to delete the half-mile stretch of road from the Kentfield General Plan. The board then referred the plan back to the county planning commission with a request that public works director Donald R. Frost be given 30 to 45 days to come up with an alternative to the Wolfe Grade extension.

PETITIONS FILED

About 100 Kentfield residents, most of them parents of children at Wolfe Grade School, were nearly unanimous in their opposition to the Wolfe Grade extention. Petitions opposing the extension bore more than 800 signatures—twice as many as there are pupils at the Wolfe Grade School.

The proposed extension of Wolfe Grade would pass between Wolfe Grade School and Marin Catholic High School. It would have been a two lane road.

Arson Suspected At Hub House

Someone with a box of matches tried to burn down the abandoned home of Wilfred A. De Cook at 676 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard last night, San Anselmo police charged.

De Cook, his wife and two children were forced to abandon the house Jan. 8 when a broken water main in Red Hill undermined the foundation and threatened to send the 25-year-old house tumbling down the hillside.

The fire was reported at 7:31 p.m. yesterday. Firemen were able to put out the blaze with only minor damage to the floor and beams under the floor in the kitchen.

Asst. Fire Chief Richard McLaren said a box of matches was found in a hallway. He said the fire could not have started by itself. The blaze started in the middle of the kitchen floor.

McLaren said wiring or a gas leak was ruled out because all utilities to the house had been disconnected. De Cook, now living at 38 Hillside Avenue, Mill Valley, said the house had also been boarded up, but the front door was found open by firemen.

McLaren said neighbors reported seeing children playing around the house.

While firemen were working to clean up the fire, a false alarm was turned in from an alarm box at Sequoia Drive and Coogan Avenue.

Two-Story School Out —But Why?

By RICHARD LYTTLE

Members of the San Rafael Board of Education were surprised to learn last night that a two-story school will not be possible on the recently purchased Canal Street site.

The board purchased the five-acre site on the supposition that a two-story school would be built.

Last night, however, architect A. Mackenzie Cantin told the board that two levels would not be possible because the school administration wanted classrooms over administration offices and partitions would not coincide.

Supt. Bert. C. Corona took exception to this explanation, saying two stories were not feasible because soil tests showed the weight could not be supported.

This dispute, unfortunately, was not made clear until after the meeting. Board members meanwhile, approved site development with single-story build-

Hospital Aide Urges Room Hike

Room rates at Marin General Hospital should be raised to help clear a $24,000 operating deficit, district administrator William W. Turner said in a letter to the hospital board last night.

He said the present double-room rate, which ranges from $26 to $28 a day, should be standardized at $29.

Turner was not present at the meeting, and the question was put over until an adjourned meeting at 7 p.m. tomorrow at the hospital.

Hospital's Rules Explained To Ascherman Case Figure

Mrs. Joyce Conway last night was told she can enter Marin General Hospital any time she is sick. So can anyone else, said hospital district board president Marion C. Ibach.

But, Mrs. Ibach added, unless there is an emergency, she will have to be admitted by a physician. She cannot admit herself.

Also the physician must be a hospital staff member, thereby eliminating Dr. Stanford W. Ascherman, Mrs. Conway's personal physician. Shortly after the discussion, the board learned that the hospital credentials committee had again asked that Ascherman be denied temporary staff privileges.

Mrs. Conway touched off a major controversy last March when she insisted on having Ascherman deliver her baby at Marin General Hospital. A special provision eventually was made to allow this, but the doctor was never granted regular staff privileges.

Ascherman is in a court battle with the hospital district over staff privileges.

On Feb. 3 Mrs. Conway asked to be admitted to Marin General Hospital again. After being refused, she said she tried three times during the day to call Hospital Administrator William W. Turner, who did not come to the phone.

Turner was not present at last night's meeting, but a copy of a letter he had written Mrs. Conway was read. It said Mrs. Conway had apparently acted without notifying Ascherman or

Hub Traffic Report Presented —'Sorry, Wrong Street Studied'

Traffic planners presented a plastic-covered, eight-page report on streets to the San Anselmo City Council last night, and were told they had studied the wrong street.

The report also included plans for an 11-acre shopping center on the front portion of the Sunny Hills orphanage land.

The plan, prepared by the firm of Wilsey, Ham and Blair of Millbrae, showed Sir Francis Drake Boulevard widened to a four-lane divided street.

"We're not as interested in Drake as in Sonoma Avenue," said Mayor William Franchini. The report barely mentioned Sonoma Avenue, saying the present 40-foot right of way would be adequate.

Councilman John M. Reichmuth said he seriously doubted the 40 feet would be enough to serve a junior high school, a cemetery and the new Sunny Hills area behind the proposed shopping center.

Technically, the council was considering the plan because of a rezoning request for three lots at Sir Francis Drake Boulevard and Sonoma Avenue for a service station.

But the station was hardly mentioned. Alvin L. Swanson Jr., of the real estate firm of Grubb and Ellis Co., Oakland, developers of the shopping center, said Sunny Hills does not own the corner lots and could not determine how wide Sonoma Avenue would be at that corner.

The question was dropped when City Administrator Douglas E. Flautt noted that Sunny Hills will have to request a lot split before the shopping center land can be developed, and that the road plan for Sonoma Avenue can be demanded then.

Franchini picked up his copy of the traffic report and said, "I sure hope you didn't spend any money on this, because it was wasted."

The shopping center plans call for a drug store, a bank and a supermarket as major tenants, but Swanson today said leasing arrangements for the site have not been completed.

Black Muslim Bomb Threats Told

CHICAGO (AP) — Police, alarmed by telephoned threats on the life of Black Muslim leader Elijah Muhammand, stepped up security plans today for the sect's convention in Chicago this weekend.

The calls to police came within a few hours of each other yesterday. The first warned: "We have arrived. Muhammad will have a lively convention."

The second caller, who identified himself as John Henderson, said 100 men were coming to Chicago from New York to kill Muhammad. The caller also told police a bomb had been planted in the Coliseum, site of the convention which is expected to attract 6,000 Black Muslims.

Telephoned bomb threats also harassed New York police and reinforcements were ordered into Harlem in an attempt to prevent further violence. Early Tuesday an explosion and fire, believed to have been set by avengers of Malcolm X, wrecked a four-story Muslim Mosque. Five firemen and one spectator were injured.

Police reported little progress in their investigation of Malcolm's slaying. Officials complained there was a barrier of silence among Malcolm's followers, members of the organization for the Afro-American unity. Malcolm was suspended from the Black Muslims 14 months ago.

Only one person, Talmadge Hayer, 22, has been arrested thus far in connection with the slaying. He has refused to say whether he has any affiliation with the Black Muslims.

Among Muhammad's visitors last night was heavyweight boxing champion Cassius Clay, a Black Muslim.

"Elijah isn't concerned about the threats," Clay said. "In fact, we didn't even discuss it."

WORLD NEWS IN BRIEF

Nimitz 80 Today, Still Active

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The oldest man in the U. S. Navy, five-star Adm. Chester W. Nimitz, is 80 years old today. He hoped it would go unnoticed, but there's little chance of that for the World War II commander of 1,000 ships.

Nimitz

Adm. Nimitz, still on active duty as special assistant to the secretary of the Navy, has requested privacy on the occasion. He'll share the observance at his home on Yerba Buena Island in San Francisco Bay with his wife of 52 years, Catherine, and a few old friends.

"No interviews," snapped the admiral.

The white-thatched Nimitz has said he will never write one line of memoirs.

"Any memoirs I wrote could not add historically to what has been written," he said.

Cairo Greets Ulbricht

CAIRO (AP)—East German President Walter Ulbricht arrived in Egypt today for a one-week visit that could lead to a displomatic breach between West Germany and much of the Arab world.

Warships blew their sirens and Soviet-built MIG fighters screamed overhead as Ulbricht descended the gangplank of the East German liner Voelkerfreundschaft in Alexandria for a greeting from Vice President Hassan Ibrahim.

Negro Woman Manhattan President

NEW YORK (AP)—Constance Baker Motley, Negro state senator from Harlem and a prominent civil rights lawyer, has become the first woman borough president of Manhattan.

Mrs. Motley

She was named to the $35,000-a-year post a little more than a year after she entered active Democratic party politics.

Mrs. Motley, 43, was elected unanimously yesterday by the Manhattan members of the City Council, six Democrats and two Republicans.

She fills a vacancy created Jan. 1 when Edward R. Dudley, a Negro, and former ambassador to Liberia, was elected a state Supreme Court justice. Every borough president of Manhattan since 1953 has been a Negro.

Mrs. Motley, whose term runs until Dec. 31, said at an Albany news conference that she would seek a full four-year term next fall.

BOBBY BAKER 'HEIR'

New Senate Aide Avoids Limelight

WASHINGTON (AP) — It would be hard to imagine a more anonymous successor to Bobby Baker as secretary of the Senate's Democratic majority.

This is not because Francis Ralph Valeo has a colorless personality, but he believes that if you are working on the staff level in government, your job is only "to serve those with responsibility."

"You don't have to have a passion for anonymity," he said in an interview, "but you shouldn't be seeking a place in the spotlight." He suggested that Senate aide who wants to become a power in his own right should stand for election.

Valeo, 49, and known to his friends as Frank, is a quiet, scholarly man. He was administrative assistant to Sen. Mike Mansfield of Montana, the Senate Democratic leader, in October, 1963, when Baker resigned as majority secretary just before an investigation of his outside business and financial interests.

The Senate Rules Committee subsequently reported Baker had been "guilty of many gross improprieties" and had used his Capitol office "as if it were a private business office."

The committee's investigation disclosed that Baker, a onetime Senate page boy, had acquired a claimed fortune of over $2 million while on the payroll at $19,600 a year.

After Baker's resignation, Mansfield asked the Brooklyn-born Valeo to take over the post — a job to which he later was elected at a conference of all the Democratic senators.

Typically, one of the first things Valeo did was to draw up a "job description" of his duties for Mansfield's approval.

The duties of the majority secretary are not spelled out by law, but Valeo said they include serving as a sort of chief of staff to the majority leader and helping to keep other Democratic senators informed of what is going on.

Part of his job is to notify the Democrats of upcoming votes so that they will be on hand for the roll calls, and, if they missed the debate on an amendment to some bill, to tell them what the issue is and the leadership's position on it.

Portuguese Bend Battle Ends

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The battle of Portuguese Bend has come to a quiet end, with the payment by Los Angeles County of $7,542,812 under a State Supreme Court ruling.

The money goes to property owners who lost their homes in landslides triggered eight years ago by county road work. The money was from gas tax funds, so there will be no immediate impact on property taxes.

The county quietly gave up and paid up yesterday when the court refused to reconsider its decision sustaining county liability for the landslide.

RANK HATH ITS SHOWER

Budget Watchdog Critical Of Official's Plush Office

Hugo Fisher, administrator of the Resources Agency, has a stall shower adjoining his wood-paneled, red carpeted executive offices on the 13th floor of the new Resources Building.

The former state senator from San Diego thus joins Gov. Brown and Assembly Speaker Jesse M. Unruh, D-Los Angeles, as possessors of handy bathing facilities.

At one time, there was one in the office of the lieutenant governor, but an inspection tour disclosed it was no longer there.

State officials still recall how then-Gov. Earl Warren complained that his shower was on one side of the hall and the dressing room on the other side.

Word of Fisher's office shower seeped out in the budget cutting report of Legislative Analyst A. Alan Post. Post didn't recommend any cuts in the Resources Agency budget, but he had some harsh words about Fisher's office.

Post said that although the 1964 legislature was told space would be reduced in the office, the only alterations involved moving some partitions. And the shower was added.

Fisher said the shower was installed after his own office was reduced in size and a back room expanded. The shower was put in the back room.

"The only two people who have ever used it were men coming back after 22 hours on flood inspection," he said.

Fisher showed a visitor his new conference room, with California hardwood paneling and rust and mustard colored chairs.

The work was done by state prison inmates, he said, and cost $6,000 to $7,000 less than requested in the budget.

The legislative analyst criticized the offices of Fisher's assistants for being too elegant for the level of men using them.

Fisher disagreed, and said the legislature had never argued with his floor plan.

His top assistant, Fred Jones, has a red carpeted office somewhat comparable to the boss'. But the quality of the offices down the line declines with the importance of the occupants. There are no rugs in the last two.

Fiery Auto Death Case Nears Jury

SAN BERNARDINO (AP) — Both sides have rested in the Lucille Miller, murder trial and Superior Judge Edward P. Fogg told the jurors they would be taken to the death scene today.

Fogg also indicated that final arguments would begin this afternoon.

Mrs. Miller, 35, a mother of three and expecting another, is charged with burning to death her husband, dentist Gordon Miller, 39, last Oct. 8 in their Volkswagen. The prosecution contends she did it to get Dr. Miller's $125,000 insurance.

Asst. Dist. Atty. Don Turner sought to show yesterday that Mrs. Miller was interested in a few days before the auto fire in technical information pertaining to autopsies.

He asked Roy Lyle James, a college instructor, if he held a conversation on autopsies with Mrs. Miller in a shoe store last Sept. 30.

But when Turner asked if the talk touched on whether autopsy reports can be incriminating, James replied firmly, "No, sir!"

Presidential Bodyguard Report Expected Soon

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Cabinet committee on presidential safety is expected to recommend shortly that more money, manpower and investigative authority be devoted to the protection of presidents.

The commission, it is understood, will reject proposals that the responsibility for guarding the life of the president be shifted from the Secret Service to the FBI or some other agency.

Informed official sources said the four-man group headed by Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon also has reached substantial agreement on other problems of presidential security and will deliver its report to the White House shortly.

The Cabinet committee was named by President Johnson last Sept. 28. The Warren Commission, in its report that day on the assassination of President John F. Kennedy, urged that such a body be established to review and oversee presidential protective activities.

In addition to Dillon, whose department embraces the Secret Service, the members are Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach, Director John A. McCone of the Central Inetlligence Agency and McGeorge Bundy, presidential assistant for national security affairs.

The White House is expected to make the report public, since the findings will have a significant bearing on the action to be taken by Congress on pending and proposed protective measures.

Rev. King Calls For More Protest Marches In Selma

"We are going to have to march some more this week," said King at a church mass meeting last night shortly after an abbreviated march by more than 200 Negro students and children.

The students were summoned to another meeting today, and the Rev. James Bevel, left in charge of the drive, said there would be more demonstrations.

King, who left last night for Atlanta and a scheduled trip to California, said the campaign which has brought more than 3,000 arrests in Selma and nearby Marion would result in congressional approval of stronger laws on voting rights.

"I have been in touch with Washington," the stocky Negro leader told the mass meeting at Browns Chapel A.M.E. church, site of almost nightly rallies.

"And I think we are getting near now to the new voting bill. I am optimistic that the bill will be presented by the administration in the next few days."

French Foreign Minister Mum

PARIS (AP) — French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville returned from the United States today and told newsmen virtually nothing.

He told newsmen at the airport: "I believe I can say I am satisfied with the talks I have just had with our American friends. As always it is useful among friends to explain, to try to understand, and to attempt to find together the necessary solutions."

Teener Dies After Accident With Pistol

LONG BEACH (AP)—A pistol, apparently placed under a pillow for protection, has claimed the life of Gregory Brewer, 17.

Brewer and his two younger brothers were alone in the family home while their parents were on a weekend trip Sunday at the time of the accident. The teen-ager died yesterday in Memorial Hospital.

Two Frostbite Experts Aid Man

KETCHIKAN, Alaska, (AP) — Two experts in the treatment of frostbite were called in from a military exercise in central Alaska to help a man who lived 78 hours under an avalanche.

Drs. W. T. Mills and W. Sudgen arrived from Ft. Richardson, near Anchorage, yesterday to join Dr. James Wilson in attending Einar, Myllyla of Winnipeg, Canada, and Kemi, Finland.

Myllyla was uncovered Sunday by a bulldozer smoothing a landing pad for rescue helicopters at the avalanche-demolished Granduc mining camp 30 miles north of Stewart, B.C., he suffered frostbitten arms and legs.

School Site Bill Gets City Support

The Novato City Council last night backed, with reservations, William H. Kirk's Assembly bill on school sites.

The council wholeheartedly endorsed the first part of the bill, which calls for a subdivider of 400 or more lots to sell a site to the school district at his cost for land and improvements.

It endorsed with reservations the second section, which calls for the payment to a school district site acquisition fund of $150 per lot for smaller subdivisions.

The bill was prepared at Kirk's request by County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney and was introduced by Assembly man William T. Bagley, R-San Rafael. It is Assembly Bill 1238.

ANNEX

wood reported last night that Alto residents find any annexation by Mill Valley on either side of Highway 101 "opprobrious in the extreme."

Councilmen reiterated that their city's zone of interest extends only to Highway 101. They also went on record as supporting the "right of self determination" for Alto residents, opposing annexation of land within Tiburon's zone of interest to any other city, and welcoming Alto area people to Tiburon—if they want to join.

The council won hearty thanks for its hands-off policy from Dr. Robert C. Cogswell Jr. of Strawberry and Mack Nicolaysen, president of the Bay View Heights Property Owners Assn.

After the meeting, City Manager Rose said he saw no reason why the Alto-Richardson Bay Fire District could not continue to operate in event of annexation. Tiburon does not have a city fire department.

The area represented by the petitions includes the Alto Sanitary District, which contracts with the City of Mill Valley to treat sewage in the city plant, and the Strawberry Recreation District.

The annexation still would not round out Tiburon's boundaries. Large unincorporated areas remain along Paradise Drive on the east side of the peninsula.

Jenkins Swears No TV Pressure

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Former White House aide Walter W. Jenkins insisted in a sworn statement made public today that he never pressured insurance agent Don B. Reynolds into buying advertising time on a Texas television station owned by President Johnson's family.

"I did know Mr. Reynolds planned to purchase advertising time and I have never asserted to the contrary," Jenkins said.

But Jenkins said Reynolds offered to buy the time in an effort to meet the competition of a Texas agent who for many years had purchased advertising on radio, and television.

Meeting Changes In Corte Madera

A special meeting of the Corte Madera Town Council, which was scheduled for tonight and then rescheduled for tomorrow night, has been changed again, this time to 10:30 a.m. Saturday at the town hall.

The council will discuss procedures for replacing Arthur H. Brandow Jr., who is leaving his jobs as town manager and town engineer to become city administrator of Belmont.

Novato Fire Board Has Six Candidates

A sixth candidate for Novato Fire District Board took out nomination papers yesterday and returned them with the necessary signatures a short time later.

He is Joseph F. Silveira of 1016 Machin Avenue. He was only the second to return the completed papers, the first being Henry R. Alvernaz of 1048 Eighth Street. Four other petitions are out, however, with tomorrow the last day for their return. The election will be April 20.

Unidentified Man Leaps From Bridge

An unidentified man jumped from the east walkway of the Golden Gate Bridge at 1:08 p.m. today, the bridge authority reported.

The man walked out to about midspan on the bridge and jumped, an official said. He had no description of the man. A Coast Guard ship was dispatched to the area.

WOLFE

pils, were killed by an automobile Jan. 14.

It was the audience's feelings on the safety factor which finally swayed Supervisors William A. Gnoss, Peter H. Behr and Thomas T. Storer. They all agreed with Frost and Planning Director B. D. Dobbs that traffic problems projected in the area warranted building the half-mile extension. But "other values are more important," Behr said.

Earlier, Behr, chairman of the supervisors, told the audience: "The dangers which killed the two schoolchildren are still there . . . I think you're allowing your present fears to cloud your view of the future."

In changing his stand, Behr said: "People must take precedence over automobiles. . . . Good planning also fits in with the feelings, and thoughts and desires of the community.

A member of the Kentfield School District Board, Lawrence Goldberg, seemed to sum up the mood of the audience when he won a round of applause by saying, "No matter how safe you make Wolfe Grade extension, it will never be as safe as no road at all."

Traffic between Wolfe Grade and Bon Air Bridge presently travels over the section of Sir Francis Drake Boulevard where the two Grady girls were killed, although there was disagreement over just how much traffic goes this way.

Frost and Dobbs maintained that Wolfe Grade extension would take this traffic off Drake Boulevard. Residents felt the extension would create more traffic.

"Aren't you inviting people to use Kentfield as a thoroughfare by extending Wolfe Grade?" asked Mrs. Paul Gillette, of 25 Cypress Avenue, to a round of applause.

"It would be a tragedy to take Wolfe Grade extension off the master plan," said Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen, whose district includes most of Kentfield. "The traffic hazard on Sir Francis Drake will double, triple in the next 10 years, regardless of the extension. That's where the danger is."

Kettenhofen proposed that the extension be delayed until traffic warranted it and until safety measures could be taken to protect the children of Wolfe Grade School.

"You'll have cars stacked on top of each other" if the extension is not built, said Supervisor Byron W. Leydecker, who also voted against the motion. "People are going to go that way . . . The traffic's already there," he said.

The supervisors received a letter favoring the extension from the Marin General Hospital District Board, which said the extension would disperse traffic congestion.

Msgr. Edward M. Dullea, principal of Marin Catholic High School, took a neutral stand, saying the extension would cut into his school's property, but would not be a safety hazard to students at Marin Catholic.

door a crack to negotiations in the Viet Nam war — but only to the extent of giving tacit consent to diplomatic soundings by the British.

Fundamentally, there appeared to be no change in U.S. policy, which has rejected any negotiations that would simply call for an American withdrawal from South Viet Nam and leave that country vulnerable to Communist takeover.

Prime Minister Harold Wilson told the House of Commons that the British government was "deeply concerned" over Viet Nam and hoped it could play a part "in helping to resolve the present problem and to arrive at a basis for a peaceful settlement."

Novato Woman, 21, Treated For Cuts

Mrs. Frances Jean McMillan, 21, of 1538 South Novato Boulevard, Novato, was treated at Novato Hospital yesterday for cuts on both her wrists, which police said were self-inflicted.

She was later transferred to Napa State Hospital.

Homes Damaged

Ralph W. Conner, an employee of Minnerly Construction Co., 2 San Marino Drive, San Rafael, complained to police yesterday that $256 damage had been done to three of the firm's new homes on San Marcos Place and Riviera Drive in the past three weeks. Windows, doors and fixtures were broken.

Report Of Bull On Loose Being Investigated

The district attorney's office today was investigating report that a bull calf was loose in San Geronimo last Sunday and that safety of small children was threatened.

Jeffrey E. Dunlap, 20 Meadow Way, reported a 400-pound bull owned by an Irene Phelps on Creamery Road was out of a pasture about 1:30 p.m. and charged a car, a roadside traffic sign, and a toy wagon.

Jess D. Janssen of Meadow Way seized a large stick and prevented the bull from attacking a small child, sheriff's officers were told. Jenssen drove the animal back into its pasture, officers said.

any other doctor Feb. 3.

Mrs. Conway later entered Polyclinic Hospital in San Francisco, where Dr. Ascherman is allowed to practice.

Mrs. Conway complained that as a taxpayer, she should be allowed to use the hospital she is paying taxes for, with any doctor she chooses.

Mrs. Ibach retorted that no tax money is used to pay for hospital operations.

Mrs. Conway then said she would be back again, the next time she has a baby, and said she will again want Ascherman on the case.

Chief of Staff Dr. T. Scott Strathairn reported on the recommendation to keep Ascherman out again. After the regular meeting, the board went into close session for an hour and 25 minutes while Strathairn read a report of the meeting of the credentials committee on Ascherman.

Dr. Ascherman has also requested temporary privileges as a trial. This was pput over until an adjourned meeting at 7 p.m. tomorrow.

who termed the case "about the worst driving record in this area of offenses that I've seen in law enforcement," asked for the six-month term, $1,250 fines, no work furlough privileges, and three years probation.

Barnett's attorney, W. O. Weissich of San Rafael, declared Barnett was a "sick man." He pleaded for no more than six months jail sentence, including time for the fines.

Robert Engle Enters Hospital

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Robert Engle, brother of the late Sen. Clair Engle, voluntarily entered Napa State Hospital yesterday for psychiatric observation following an attack upon a U.S. marshal.

He struck Marshal Edward Heslep with a cane Feb. 16 in Heslep's office. The marshal said he had met Engle only twice and knew of no reason for the outburst.

Novato Patrolman Fired From Force

Patrolman Harry E. Hersch was fired from the Novato Police Department yesterday, reported City Mgr. J. Julien Baget.

Hersh, who lives at 39 Midway, Mill Valley, joined the department last Nov. 2. He had been involved in four accidents with police cars in four months, Baget said.

FDR Son Puts Hat In Florida City Ring

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Elliott Roosevelt, son of the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt, said today he will run for Mayor of Miami Beach.

Roosevelt, 54, who has lived here since 1962, said he wants to "help my neighbors build a better community and a model government."

Three Arson Attempts Reported At School

Three attempts at arson—apparently by juveniles — was reported at Greenbrae School over the weekend.

George R. Stratton, principal, told sheriff's deputies a janitor discovered evidence of burned paper applied to canvas refuge bags in school building corridors early Tuesday. Officers said about $25 damage resulted.

ings and told Cantin to proceed with drawings.

When Cantin left the meeting room, the Independent-Journal asked him if the reason against two-story construction was design or soil. Cantin reiterated that it was design, that lack of coinciding walls between first and second story made him discard the second story idea.

Cantin, however, told the board a later classroom addition could be two stories if the classrooms are stacked.

Corona, after the meeting, declared it was Cantin's own engineer who recommended against the two-story building because of soil bearing limitations.

The site is all filled land. First development as proposed by Cantin last night would be 12 classrooms and a kindergarten. There would be room for the later addition of six classrooms (two-story), a multi-purpose room and another kindergarten.

The elementary school district paid $131,267 for the site.

PARKING

very unhappy," said Mike Mackes of Mackes' Sweaters, 26 El Portal. "We weren't aware of the thing. It was just swept in suddenly."

John R. Minton, owner of Creative Arts at 22 El Portal, has protested to the city council, saying removal of meters from the lot will "discourage local persons from patronizing local businesses."

He claims, too, the lot layout left no provision for foot traffic between the Trade Fair and El Portal and that there is inadequate planning for merchants' parking.

"It's going to cost a shopper, in effect, 35 cents for a 10-cent pencil since the minimum fee in the revised lot will be 25 cents for three hours," the art store merchant said.

City Mgr. Charles A. Brown said today that, although parking is now 25 cents per day via a parking gate that, when the lot is rebuilt in two or three weeks cost will be 10 cents an hour, the same as for any Sausalito meter. The lot, when complete, will be entered from Anchor Street instead of Park Street and will be manned by attendants who are older citizens.

Brown said he has spoken to the street superintendent about making a walkway from El Portal to the Trade Fair. Bus parking is being worked out, he said.

He believes merchants should be discouraged from parking in the prime parking area and that all-day parking for them should be away from this area. He said he is sending a letter to merchants suggesting a parking plan for merchant participation to provide low-cost parking on week days to Sausalito citizens.

"I'm not in accord with the change but it is for the city engineer and parking commission to decide," said William W. Remak, head of Sausalito Artists and Merchants.

A. L. Bjorklund Jr., president of the Sausalito Chamber of Commerce, commented: "The city has made no substantial effort to deal with the parking and traffic situation . . . their primary concern has been in the past and apparently will be in the future in securing additional revenues for the city only.

"The whole approach to parking in the downtown area has been one of how much money are we going to be able to secure from all of those automobiles."

OBITUARIES

Alma Petar, Skipper's Widow, Dies

Mrs. Alma M. Petar, 80, widow of the ship captain who sailed the last regular schooner runs from Bolinas to San Francisco, died yesterday in a local hospital after a short illness.

Mrs. Petar moved to 14 Blue Rock Court, Corte Madera, to stay with a daughter, Mrs. Violette Miller, when her husband, Capt. Louis B. Petar, died 10 years ago.

Mrs. Petar came to Marin County 69 years ago from her native Sweden. She met her husband in Bolinas and married him in San Rafael. Captain Petar owned and operated the schooner Owl, which made regular trips between Bolinas and San Francisco, frequently with Mrs. Petar aboard. The ship carried both passengers and freight.

Apologies Refused In Telegrams Case

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Senate leaders refused today to meet a demand that they publicly apologize for proposing a federal investigation of whether three assemblymen have violated a 150-year-old law.

"We have no intention of backing off or apologizing," said Senate Leader Hugh M. Burns, D-Fresno.

Sen. John F. McCarthy, R-San Rafael, minority leader, said he saw "no reason" why the investigation should not be pressed.

Assemblyman William F. Stanton, D-San Jose, hurled the challenge at Burns and McCarthy Tuesday from the Assembly floor — over the protests of Speaker Jesse M. Unruh, D-Inglewood.

Stanton and Assemblymen, John Burton and Wllie Brown, both San Francisco Democrats, fired off cablegrams two weeks ago to a Labor member of Parliament, British Prime Minister Harold Wilson and French President Charles de Gaulle.

The wires asked the officials to "use your influence to halt any further escalation of the war in Viet Nam" and said a peaceful Southeast Asia was the only answer to world peace.

As a result, Burns and McCarthy submitted a resolution asking U.S. Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach and Federal Attorney Cecil Poole to see if the assemblymen had violated a 1797 law forbidding citizens to attempt independently to settle disputes between the United States and other nations.

In his floor speech, Stanton said he at first thought the senators were joking and denied that he did not want to get into a fight with Burns and McCarthy.

"If they'll withdraw that motion resolution today and make a proper public apology, I think the matter will be finished," Stanton said.

Later, Burns and McCarthy refused to accede to Stanton's demand. However, the Senate Rules Committee failed to act on the resolution and there were indications it may never do so.

Meanwhile, Secretary of State Frank M. Jordan announced that a group of California Young Republicans had filed petitions seeking the recall of the three Democratic assemblymen.

The petitions accused the lawmakers of having sent "cablegrams to left wing leaders in other countries which encourage them to support Communist-led governments which are killing American sevicemen every day." They require signatures of eight per cent of the voters in the assembly districts before recall elections can be held.

Brown Budget Is Lashed By College Aides

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Sharp criticism has been leveled at Gov. Edmund G. Brown's budget by the California Co-ordinating Council for Higher Education.

State College Chancellor Glenn S. Dumke, speaking at the council session yesterday, said the state colleges were facing a financial crisis and "unless we can solve this problem, we cannot guarantee the people of California college education of the quality they expect."

The budget fell $8.5 million short of the allocation requested by the state colleges and $11 million short of the funds requested by the University of California.

University President Clark Kerr commented, "For the first time in many years the university has had to make a supplemental budget request."

Dr. Willard B Spaulding, council director, also termed the budget as inadequate noting that failure to provide adequate funds to pay first rate faculty personnel would cause the academic program to suffer.

Pedersen, chamber president, with findings to be submitted to the city manager and city attorney. Members are Charles J. Francis, chairman; Jack Varney, Alf G. Nyquist, S. J. Weil, William A. Eberhart and John McSweeney.

Loren Rohde, city building inspector, has said that 70 commercial signs do not comply with the ordinance.

State Primary Change Sought

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO—A bill that would give more latitude in voting for presidential candidates in California primary elections was being prepared today by Assemblymen George W. Milias, R-Gilroy, and William T. Bagley, R-San Rafael.

Bagley, said the bill would give the secretary of state authority to put on the ballot any presidential candidate who, in his discretion, is seriously mentioned as a potential candidate. It would pattern after the Oregon primary system.

In the California system, voters do not nominate a president but merely select delegates to the national conventions. Last June, for example, Republican voters had a choice only of voting for delegates supporting Barry Goldwater or Nelson Rockefeller.

Condors, great hawklike birds with a 10-foot wingspread once ranged widely and probably were the "thunderbirds" of Indian legend.

McCarthy Bills Would Aid Dam Repair, Pupil Athletes

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — Phoenix Dam near Ross, which has been termed a hazard, could be restored for recreational use under a bill introduced today by State Sen. John F. McCarthy, R-San Rafael.

The measure would authorize the State Department of Water Resources to make loans to local public agencies for up to 50 years for repair or alteration of dams.

Repair of one dam must not exceed four million dollars unless the Legislature specifically authorizes a higher amount.

Estimated cost of repair of Phoenix Dam is $200,000.

Yesterday, Senator McCarthy introduced a bill that would require that all students enrolled at public or private elementary and secondary schools be permitted to participate in inter-school sports.

McCarthy said that at present, some students are barred from engaging in inter-school athletic competition because they came from outside the school attendance area.

Novato May Ban 'Foreign' Signs

The Novato City Council wants to get rid of all signs on Highway 101 within the city limits that do not advertise local businesses.

Mayor Robert D. Carrow proposed last night that the city pass an ordinance giving sign owners a period of years to amortize the signs and then remove them.

City Atty. Clark M. Palmer Jr., was told to check into the legality and prepare an ordinance.

It is estimated that there are some five million persons in the United States today who are trapped in some stage of alcoholism.

Trustees Support State Appointment

Trustees of the Mill Valley School District last night voted 4-1, trustee Edward A. Kemp Jr. voting "no," to support Palo Alto Unified School District trustees' resolution asking legislative action to permit appointment rather than election of the state superintendent of public instruction.

The majority viewpoint, said Trustee John C. Donhoff, was that the relationship should be the same as that which exists in school districts throughout the state where there is an elected board and appointive superintendent.

The board authorized application for federal funds of $2,170 for supplementary textbooks under provisions of the national defense education act.

Developer, City Split Over Slide Repair Cost

Developers of the Indian Rock subdivision will have to draw on their own funds to correct a slide on Miwok Avenue, the San Anselmo City Council decided last night.

Funds of an assessment district formed to build streets in the area can not be tapped, because a slide is not a "contingency," City Atty. John G. Buresh ruled.

D. W. Barnard, president of Delmay Development Co., developer of the subdivision, told the council his attorney said the slide was a contingency, and that the $10,800 contingency fund of the assessment district could be used.

Engineer Joseph Cason of George Nolte Co. said that as engineer of the work, he cannot order the slide stabilized. The street will be destroyed in the next rainstorm unless something is done, he said.

Buresh recalled that about two and one-half years ago, when the hillside subdivision was approved, the council chambers were filled with residents who warned that there would be slides. He said this danger had been discounted by soils engineers.

The same soils engineers now estimate it will cost more than $7,000 to correct the present slide, City Administrator Douglas E. Flautt reported.

Buresh said he believed the contingency fund is going to be needed before the street work is completed, and hinted that Delmay Development Co. may be in financial trouble and hoping the city will bail it out.

Barnard angrily denied the inference, but insisted he would not pay now to correct the slide with his own funds.

Sausalito Trustee Won't Run

Mrs. Juanita Cobb, completing her second term as trustee of the Sausalito School District, told board members last night she will not seek re-election April 20. Her term expires in June.

Trustees George R. Kowski and Dr. Stanley L. Wolfe, whose terms are also expiring, have not yet announced their intentions. No one has filed so far for the Sausalito board.

Supt. Marcus F. Davis explain the proposed pre-school program in detail to trustees, saying $80,000 is necessary to launch the program for one year. Trustees reaffirmed decision to ask for funds under the Economic Opportunity Act.

The board hired Bonnie Clark of Larkspur to take the place of Mrs. Linda Tamura, fifth grade teacher, Richardson Bay School, who goes on maternity leave March 1, and hired Mrs. Madelynne Hovanec of Novato as cafeteria assistant at Manzanita School.

Belvedere Toddler Bitten By Terrier

Three-year-old Craig Patterson of Belvedere was bitten by a dog yesterday, the second child bitten in two days in the city.

Belvedere police reported a terrier-type dog bit the boy on the back of the neck as he was swinging in Belvedere Park. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Patterson, 20 Peninsula road.

San Rafael Police Log Series Of Small Thefts

Alton A. Morgan of 29 Brookdale Avenue, San Rafael, complained to police yesterday that several items had been stolen from his home while he was away.

He said his son found a former tenant in the house at 5:30 p.m. yesterday. The man, who moved out two weeks ago, still has a key, and explained that he was returning to get some belongings he had left behind.

Morgan's vacuum cleaner, radio, phonograph and binoculars vanished, he said.

Chiropractor Robert W. Pearce told police last night that someone had taken two identifying signs, worth about $30, from in front of his office at 1628 Fifth Avenue.

Jon M. Gragg of 65 Fairfax Street, Apt. 12, complained someone had stolen a bottle of prescription capsules from a cardboard box which had been mailed him by the Veterans Administration clinic in San Francisco.

Officers said they were questioning a 7-year-old San Rafael boy who took home some similar capsules, saying another youngster had given them to him.

About $45 damage was done, but nothing was taken, when someone broke into Weber Plastering Co., 141 Front Street, Monday night or early yesterday.

Larry C. Weber of the firm said he found a rear window broken and a cabinet damaged.

Jury Trial Set For Fairfax Man

Jury trial for Donald McIntyre, 33, of Fairfax, charged with committing homosexual acts with three youths, was scheduled yesterday in Marin Superior Court for April 6.

McIntyre, of 1615-B Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, was arrested Jan. 17 by Fairfax police for the alleged violation with three Fairfax boys, aged 14, 15, and 17.

Unruh Has Thoughts Of Unicameral Tryout

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Assembly Speaker Jesse M. Unruh revealed today that "he played around with the idea" of a unicameral legislature for California.

Unruh, at his weekly news conference with Senate President Pro Tem Hugh M. Burns, D-Fresno, admitted "this may be a far-out approach, but I believe it would solve our reapportionment problem."

The Democratic speaker said he had once considered introducing the bill but "after further thought decided the measure should come from someone other than the Assembly leader."

Unruh said he doubted if enough support could be developed to gain approval of the unicameral system in a state "long associated with the bicameral legislature."

A unicameral proposal already has been introduced in the Senate by Sen. Frank S. Petersen, D-Ukiah.

Unruh said he had "toyed around" with proposal to set up a 120-member one-house legislature. The lawmakers would be a "de facto legislature," he added, until the 1966 election when 120 districts could be created.

Burns said he doubted if the legislature would approve the one-house system and "personally I feel two chambers insure us the balance and check system."

The Senate leader also said it is impossible to meet the court order for reapportionment of the upper house by July 1. "We have asked for more time. Perhaps with additional time we can come up with an answer to this confusing problem."

Unruh and Burns then openly criticized some legislators who had attacked Legislative Analyst A. Alan Post for his suggested $123.83 million cut in the proposed budget.

Burns put it this way:

"Mr. Post operates a function of the legislature; he was unfairly criticized by legislators for his recommended cuts. He is only doing his job.

"I don't blame Gov. Brown for his criticism of Mr. Post, because the cutbacks were aimed directly at the governor's proposed budget. But I do believe legislators should withhold criticism until they have studied all of the Post proposals."

Bomb Plot Hearing Postponed

NEW YORK (UPI) — A federal court hearing for two men and a Canadian woman charged with conspiracy to bomb the Statue of Liberty, Liberty Bell and Washington Monument was adjourned yesterday until next Tuesday because of another federal action in the case.

Asst. U. S. Atty. Stephen E. Kaufman asked for the week's adjournment because the government started to present the matter to a federal grand jury yesterday morning. He said the Justice Department was hopeful of getting an indictment by next Tuesday.

The three have been held in a total of $200,000 bail since their arrest last Tuesday. They are Michelle Duclos, Walter A. Bowe and Khalel Sayyed.

Another alleged conspirator, Robert Steele Collier, was held on civil charges.

Marin To Join Flood Group

The Marin County Board of Supervisors agreed yesterday to join the Eel River Flood Control and Water Conservation Assn. as an associate member at a cost of $500.

The board left the door open for joining as a full member at a cost of $5,000 later.

Supervisors agreed to confer with representatives of the Marin Municipal Water District and North Marin County Water District to determine whether the districts would be willing to contribute toward the $5,000 full membership fee.

Youth Is Arrested In Dynamite Theft

A 17-year-old San Rafael boy was arrested at his home yesterday in connection with the recent theft of 700 dynamite caps from a quarry near Petaluma.

San Rafael officers said they booked the youth at the request of the Petaluma Police Department. They said he had some of the caps at home when arrested.

Chain Of Phone Calls Saves Tiburon Woman

A chain of telephone calls early today apparently prevented the suicide of a 29-year-old Tiburon woman.

Sheriff's officers said Carole Marie Capicchioni, 1850 Vistazo West Street, telephoned a friend Pauline Fine, in Los Angeles that she was attempting suicide by taking pills.

The friend called Los Angeles officers, who in turn phoned San Francisco Police Department, who notified Marin County sheriff's deputies, who sped to the Capicchioni residence.

The woman was found unconscious on the floor, officers said. She was taken to Marin General Hospital for emergency treatment, then transferred to Napa State Hospital for 72 hours observation.

Right-Of-Way Crash Injures One Driver

David E. Kalman, 20, of 37 Allen Avenue, Ross, was injured about 2:45 p.m. yesterday in a head-on auto accident as he was making a left turn from Magnolia Avenue into Dartmouth Drive, Larkspur.

Larkspur police said a northbound car driven by William H. Steel, 18, of 1285 Cambridge Street, Novato, hit Kalman's car as he started the turn. Kalman was cited for failing to yield the right of way.

Meeting Is Changed

The Novato Sanitary District board will meet at 8 p.m. tomorrow in the North Marin County Water District office instead of tonight.

Auditorium Board Naming Is Delayed

Marin County supervisors indicated yesterday they still have some qualms about appointing a joint auditorium-fairgrounds committee.

Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen said, "It seems to me we should be thinking of having a separate auditorium board."

Supervisor William A. Gnoss said he was confused about the relationship between the proposed committee and "the fairgrounds proper."

Two weeks ago County Administrator Alan Bruce submitted a list of nine prospective committee members, who would participate in the planning of the fairgrounds and auditorium. Bruce said the committee could be reconstituted later as a board to oversee operations, including the fair.

Supervisors yesterday again postponed naming a committee.

Two persons nominated to the county's community action organization notified the board they will not be able to serve. They are Sidney Braverman of San Anselmo and Charles J. Hendrickson of San Rafael. They were among four business and labor representatives appointed.

The community action organization is an advisory group on development of programs to qualify for Economic Opportunity Act funds.

The Marin County Board of Supervisors also:

1. Endorsed a proposed constitutional amendment which would allow one house of a state legislature to be elected on a basis other than population. The vote was 4-1 with Supervisor Byron W. Leydecker dissenting.

2. Recommended that the Public Utilities Commission permit extension of natural gas service to the San Geronimo Valley.

3. Ordered preparation of a resolution opposing the proposed Port of Oakland bay fill project.

4. Authorized Public Works Director Donald R. Frost to apply for federal flood disaster relief funds as result of damage during heavy December rains.

5. Authorized the department of public works to provide building inspection service to the city of Fairfax at cost for a six-month period.

6. Received a letter from the Marin Coast Chamber of Commerce protesting the manner in which Henry C. Hankins of Point Reyes Station was removed from the county planning commission.

7. Appointed Jack R. Robinson, 405 Vendola Drive, as chairman for disaster services in Santa Venetia.

8. Approved an exchange of land between the Mill Valley School District and the county at Tamalpais Valley School site, which will permit construction of a road by Goheen Enterprises, developer of Tennessee Valley Unit 2. About a third of an acre of school land would be used in exchange for fill from the contractor for the school site.

9. Authorized underground electrical installation at the Family Rehabilitation Center at the county farm in Lucas Valley, adding $992 to the cost.

10. Set hearing on a master plan for Harbor Vista, a proposed 26-acre development containing 254 units in Strawberry, for March 30 at 2 p.m. The development would be along the ridge east of Highway 101, between Belvedere Drive and West Strawberry Drive.

11. Welcomed two classes of students from Tamalpais High School who are studying American government.

12. Backed four legislative measures providing emergency relief for flood-stricken areas in Northern California and opposed a bill that would call for reassessment of property as a relief measure.

13. Appointed Lucille E. Wardell as intermediate typist clerk, recorder's office, and Lenore Wiseman as teacher, schools office.

Contractor's Chivalry Just Doesn't Work

A contractor's zeal to solve a woman's problem backfired last night, as the San Rafael Planning Commission declined to approve a variance for a parking ramp which he had built without a permit.

Commissioners voted 4-2, with Thomas R. O'Toole and Carl S. Brown dissenting, to deny the application by Mary L. Moss of 1554 Lincoln Avenue. Commissioner Charles J. Hendrickson was absent.

Mrs. Moss sought a variance for a ramp which runs to the front property line in an area where a 15-foot setback is required, and has a 20-inch side setback instead of the required four feet.

With her was contractor Orton Sabraw, who said he had "just built it to help her out" because she was unable to park her car in her steeply sloping driveway.

Commissioners, however, seemed less concerned with her problem than with the question of how an experienced contractor had come to install such a ramp without a building permit.

"We overlooked this one," Sabraw said with a smile.

City Planner George H. Rodgers said Mrs. Moss's problem could be solved if she built a retaining wall and filled her driveway, requiring no building permit.

Commissioners recommended she follow Rodgers' suggestion.

Union Merger For Carpenters Expected Soon

Merger of Marin County's two carpenters unions is expected by April 1.

That's when the general executive board of the International Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners is expected to act on the proposal in Washington, D.C.

"We've been assured that the executive board was very much in favor of the move," Norman Campbell said today.

Campbell is business representative for Local 35 of San Rafael and Local 1710 of Mill Valley. Local 35 has about 1,500 members, while Local 1710 has about 200.

Members of both unions have already voted to merge, Campbell said, but the move cannot become official until approval from the brotherhood.

11 CSF Life Members Named

Eleven seniors, the largest number in the history of Novato High School, have been given life memberships to the California Scholarship Federation in a special awards assembly.

These students have achieved an A-minus average for at least five semesters in their high school careers, Garguilo reported.

MARRIAGE OF 'MERCY'

Silent screen star Mary MacLaren and one-time lion tamer Robert S. Coleman, a crippled, blind World War I veteran, arrived at courthouse in Los Angeles where they were married yesterday. Both are 65. Miss MacLaren called the marriage one "of mercy" and said Coleman "an interesting man and companionable." She added: "He tells me he loves me dearly. Miss MacLaren says she met Coleman three years ago after learning of a blind veteran who had been beaten. "I brought him home and he has been at my house ever since," she said. (AP Wirephoto)

Hub Apartment Plans Lose To Future Road

Alan Larkin may not build an apartment house on land which just might someday have a street running through it, the San Anselmo City Council decided last night by 3-2 vote.

Larkin was appealing denial by the planning commission of rezoning from single-family to apartments for 60 Magnolia Avenue. The commission had acted on the grounds the city's downtown plan called for a street through the property.

Councilmen Cedric E. Clute and Woodrow V. Capurro supported the land owner. Capurro said he doubted the street would ever be built. Larkin's attorney, Edmund Ward, argued that the plan depended upon the long-delayed city parking district.

Ward said the plan calls for completion in 1980, and in the meantime the city could be collecting higher property taxes from an apartment, even if it had to be condemned later.

Councilman John M. Reichmuth said the streets and water mains in the area will not support more intensive land use.

Mayor William Franchini went along with the denial, but said some deadline should be set for the formation of the parking district, perhaps in six months, so that other zoning requests will not have to be held in limbo.

The proposed street would run parallel to San Anselmo Avenue, which the downtown plan proposes converting to a mall.

The San Anselmo City Council also:

1. Told applicant Vera Rivers that the city could not abandon the right of way of Rustic Lane, a strip of land running to the top of Red Hill, because it had never accepted the dedication in 1921. She was told to find the heirs of the original subdivider.
2. Agreed to ignore the slope policy in allowing a lot split for Myrtle L. Coughlin at 20 Vine Avenue.
3. Prohibited parking on one side of Vine Avenue from No. 20 to the end of the street.

Suspect Pleads Guilty To Holdup Of Liquor Store

Clifford E. Palmer, 29, pleaded guilty in Marin Superior Court yesterday to attempted robbery of Oriental Fourth Street Liquor Store, 703 Fourth Street, San Rafael, last Sept. 27.

A count of armed robbery of Lincoln Market, 1492 Lincoln Avenue, San Rafael, a day earlier was then dismissed. Judgment on the attempted robbery is scheduled by Judge Thomas F. Keating on March 15.

Palmer, of 523 D Street, San Rafael, was arrested after attempting to rob Paul A. Ricksecker, co-owner of the Fourth Street store. Ricksecker, a retired policeman, grabbed Palmer and struck him over the head with a revolver.

Cash totalling $300 and several checks were taken in the Lincoln Market robbery.

Council Hikers Uncover Civic Litter Problem

As a result, one derelict has already been removed and City Mgr. Charles A. Brown promised the council last night that all will be off city property by Tuesday.

Mayor Jan Paul Dyk said the council came "to a grinding halt in back of the Shell service station at 900 Bridgeway. I knew it was messy but didn't know it was messy beyond comprehension." He said there were four or five stripped cars, complete derelicts, on city property along Humboldt Street behind the station. In addition, said Dyk, there were "old tires, oil cans, beer cans, you name it . . . it's not a healthy situation."

"Stop by at next meeting before the meeting and it will be all cleaned up," promised Brown.

Alaskan Bridge

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (UPI) —The Department of Highways and the U.S. Bureau of Public Roads have recommended construction of a $60 million bridge across Turnagain Arm southeast of here.

Sausalito Police, Firemen May Be Neighbors Soon

The lot next to the main firehouse on Johnson Street was selected last night by Sausalito city councilmen as the best of 10 sites for a temporary police station.

Final decision is to be made Tuesday after City Mgr. Charles A. Brown checks with retiring fire chief Matthew J. Perry and new fire chief Charles E. Masten to see if the portable building will meet fire regulations on the lot.

Councilmen Melvin S. Wax and Eleanor O'Hara Chapin said they plan to look at the one-story, 30-by-70 foot frame building, now in Oakland on Friday.

The building, once a manufacturing plant, is to be barged to Sausalito. Cost, including installation, was to have been about $12,000 on a location on Anchor Street favored by Brown and Police Chief Kenneth H. Huck. Brown said there may be somewhat higher cost in getting it to Johnson Street.

Brown told the council, "you have chosen the poorest location," reasoning mainly that there will be loss in efficiency because of distance between city hall and police station.

Mrs. Chapin said nothing should be placed along the waterfront study is completed.

Lions Speaking Contest Slated

The annual public speaking contest sponsored by the Novato Lions Club will be held at 7 p.m. today at Cloud Five Restaurant in Novato, with five Novato High School students competing.

"Maturity—Its Privileges and Responsibilities" is the subject given to the contestants. The local winner will receive a trophy and go on to county competition.

Those entered are: Roberta Chamberlain, a senior; Scott Bulfinch, a junior; John Mowat, a sophomore; Al Parsons, a junior, and Thomas Thekathyil, a senior.

Jack Craemer Is Commended By Assembly

The resolution was introduced by Assemblyman William T. Bagley, R-San Rafael, and co-authored by Sen. John F. McCarthy, R-San Rafael.

The resolution cites Craemer's background and activities and concludes with this paragraph:

"Resolved by the Assembly of the State or California that the members express their congratulations and extend best regards to Jack Craemer and commend his years of service to his community, state and nation."

Larkspur Finds No Norm In Bay City Height Laws

Larkspur Planning Commissioner William G. Fleckles last night reported on a survey of Bay Area cities on height limits, saying there is no tradition limiting the amount of variance that can be granted.

The commission took no action other than agreeing to forward the report to the city council.

Height limits have been under discussion since the council last year approved an eight-story residence for the elderly in Greenbrae, far exceeding the city ordinance limit of 35 feet.

The commission agreed to make no formal recommendation on a replacement for Andrew Gilardi, who will leave the commission the end of this week. Several commissioners said they would give informal recommendations to councilmen.

Attilio Malatesta was told he would have to have a use permit to open a slot car racing shop at 484 Magnolia Avenue.

Visiting Boy Keeps Home Fires Burning

A 6-year-old Terra Linda boy walked into the home of Michael T. Long at 206 Orris Terrace yesterday while Mrs. Long was out shopping.

Making himself at home, the youngster turned on the burners of the electric range before he wandered back out into the Longs' yard to play.

When Mrs. Long returned at 10:55 a.m., she found flames shooting up from her range. She called firemen, who put out the flames before they could spread beyond the stove.

Firemen said the heat burned through an empty pot and melted part of the stove top.

Ross Demo Club Elects Officers

Attorney Herbert G. Hawkins of San Anselmo will head the Ross Valley Democratic Club for 1965.

Hawkins, who has offices in Novato, succeeds Richard Persoff of Corte Madera.

Other new officers, elected last week, are Peter Goldstein of Fairfax, vice chairman; Mrs. George Renworth of Greenbrae, secretary, and Charles Goebel of Corte Madera, treasurer.

Red Hill School Site Meeting Set

Discussions with architects on the Red Hill School site are set for a special meeting at 7:30 p.m. today of the San Anselmo School District board at Isabel Cook School.

The board will also take up the question of endorsing a measure by the Sausalito School District seeking funds from the state for pre-school and compensatory education programs.

Marin Central Committee Will Hear Top GOP Aide

Dr. Gaylord Parkinson, chairman of the Republican State Central Committee, will speak at the next meeting of the Marin GOP Central Committee on March 23.

The announcement was made last night at the Marin Central Committee meeting by chairman Gerald E. Misner. Central committee meetings are held in the courthouse in San Rafael at 8 p.m.

Chairman Misner last night appointed Charles Daniels Jr. as operational budget committee chairman and Tally P. Mastrangelo a credentials committee chairman.

Members elected Peter Johnson of Mill Valley as a central committee member from District 3 to succeed William M. Spencer Jr. Spencer resigned because of pressure of business.

At the suggestion of Mrs. Lee Sherry of Fairfax, a committee was set up to investigate the possibility of giving aid and guidance to teen-age Republican groups in Marin. Virginia Wickersham was named chairman, with Charles Michals and Edwin W. Thomas as members.

Memorial Rites For Frankfurter

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A brief private memorial service was scheduled today for retired Supreme Court Justice Felix Frankfurter, who died Monday at the age of 82.

No public services were planned. The Supreme Court press office said there would be no announcement of burial "or any other details."

Chief Justice Earl Warren and the other members of the high court and their wives planned to attend the private memorial service at the Frankfurter apartment. Mrs. Frankfurter has been an invalid for several years and is unable to leave the apartment.

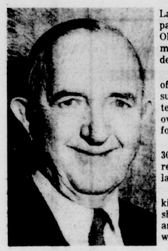
Comedian Stan Laurel Dies Of Heart Attack



STAN LAUREL
Last of team

SANTA MONICA (AP)—Stan Laurel, the little, rubber-faced partner of the late, 300-pound Oliver Hardy in the movies' most successful comedy team, is dead of a heart attack at 74.

Victim of a stroke in 1955 and of diabetes in later years, he suffered the fatal seizure yesterday in his bluff-top apartment overlooking the ocean. His fourth wife, Ida, was at his side.

Laurel and Hardy starred in 300 films, mostly two- and three-reelers, and made millions laugh.

They were the 30s' slapstick kings and their films still are shown regularly on television and in theaters around the world.

Babe Hardy used to say Laurel was the brains of their act. Stan wrote and directed many of their films.

In a stock situation, the skinny Laurel and the rotund Hardy were at odds with authority — landlord, grim mother-in-law or chief of police. They always lost — except at the box office.

Laurel was born Arthur Stanley Jefferson June 16, 1890, in Ulverston, England, the son of a theatrical family.

Laurel started in films as a writer and director. Then one day, in 1927, he replaced an actor who had taken sick and played a butler opposite a hefty comic villain named Hardy. They were an instantaneous click.

Their heyday was in films for the late producer Hal Roach. They made many pictures for him before moving in 1940 to 20th Century-Fox. They kept no property rights to the old films, so reaped no rewards when they later were shown on television.

Besides his widow, Laurel leaves a daughter Lois, of suburban Tarzana. Her husband, A. H. Brooks, is a movie production man.

Laurel was married eight times to four women.

He and his Russian-born last wife, the former Ida Kitaeva Raphael, were married May 6, 1946, in Yuma, Ariz.

180 School Days Urged In San Rafael

If Walter J. Doll, a member of the San Rafael Board of Education, has his way, there will be 180 days of classes in city schools next year and the school year will not end until June 17.

Doll made his desires plain last night at the board of education meeting, noting that a proposed schedule for next year of two weeks ago was revised so that the year would end June 10 and there would be only 178 days of classes.

Doll noted that the schedule presented two weeks ago showed 179 days and the year ending June 17. In last night's plan a week was cut off the end of the year by dropping one day and doing away with in-service study or visitation days for teachers.

"If these visitation days are important, as I've been told they are, why do we cut them out?" Doll asked. He also said he planned to insist on 180 days in an attempt to reverse a trend toward shorter school years.

Supt. Bert C. Corona said teachers "felt strongly" about getting out a week earlier.

Board member John M. Bagshaw said he also "felt strongly" when it came to vacations, but there was very often little he could do about it. "Everybody likes vacations," Bagshaw said.

Corona said the district's current year has only 178 teaching days and that Tamalpais High School District is on a 176-day schedule.

Further discussion was put off until the March 9 meeting.

Dance Theme Set

"Spring Is Here" is the theme of the associated student body dance to be held from 8:30 to 11:30 p.m. Friday in the old gymnasium at Novato High School. Music will be provided by the Reflections.

All-Day Parking Lot Set For Sausalito

Sausalito's parking lot No. 3, adjacent to Vina Del Mar Plaza, is being converted from meter to all-day parking and, during the conversion period, charge for parking all day or part of a day is 25 cents.

Parking meters were removed last week. When the lot is readied shortly to be handled by parking attendants, cost of parking will be set at 10 cents an hour, City Mgr. Charles A. Brown reported. The entrance to the lot is now at Anchor Street.

Co-op Nursery Has New Grip On Life

The San Rafael Board of Education declared last night that it had no intention of dropping the cooperative nursery school.

The nursery school is part of the adult education program. Two weeks ago, Asst. Supt. Mitchell L. Voydat told the board he was evaluating the entire adult education program in light of the loss of Hamilton Air Force Base students due to the San Jose-Novato unification. The airbase classes make up the bulk of San Rafael High School District's adult program.

Voydat then said a recommendation to do away with all adult education, including the nursery school, could result from his study.

This evidently brought considerable protest from nursery school parents.

Board Member Walter J. Doll said last night that Voydat's statement was misunderstood. However, Voydat told the Independent-Journal that dropping the nursery school could be a recommendation.

What action the board takes on the recommendation is another matter, Voydat said.

Consumers' Guardian Defends Her Office

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — It would be a "grievous backward step" to eliminate or curtain the Office of Consumer Counsel, Mrs. Helen Ewing Nelson of Mill Valley declared yesterday.

Mrs. Nelson heads the Office of Consumer Counsel, which operates on an annual budget of about $125,000.

She made the statement in reply to a suggestion by legislative analyst A. Alan Post that one of the areas where cutbacks are possible is in the consumer counsel.

Mrs. Nelson pointed out that the legislative analyst's basic recommendation is to retain the Office of Consumer Counsel. It was only in the analyst's "policy options" that he mentions the Consumer Counsel as one area where cutbacks could be possible, Mrs. Nelson explained.

"When you have various industries running to the Legislature to get special concessions, the consumers need someone to be spokesmen for them," said Mrs. Nelson.

Tiburon Council Shelves Temporary Bay Fill Freeze

Tiburon City Council sailed toward a bay fill moratorium for the city last night, then yawed away from it.

Councilman Fred C. Hannahs moved for a six-month moratorium on fill and development of underwater land in the city. But the consensus of other councilmen was that ordinances now in effect give the city enough control over underwater lots and that a moratorium might be "hasty."

Hannahs withdraw his motion, saying it was apparent other councilmen would not back a planning study to go with a moratorium. He said he would be against a moratorium which just was a "holding action" without a study.

Councilmen then approved a motion asking a report from city Mgr. Lawrence D. Rose on exactly what laws the city has which affect underwater lots.

The Tiburon City Council Also:

1. Heard no comment during hearings on granting franchises for electric and gas service to Pacific Gas and Electric Co. and set first reading of a franchise ordinance for March 8.
2. Postponed consideration of a garbage franchise ordinance to March 8.
3. Turned down a request by Marin Convalescent and Rehabilitation Hospital that the council rescind its previous denial of permission for a hospital addition. Councilmen Anne L. Ellinwood and Hannahs voting against rescinding. John S. Hoffmire Jr. and Gordon W. Strawbridge voted yes. Leo Souza abstained. Four "yes" votes were necessary to rescind.
4. Requested that plans for Marin Convalescent and Rehabilitation Hospital be referred to the city for study.
5. Turned down 3-2 a proposal that a councilmen committee from Tiburon, Belvedere, Sausalito and Mill Valley be formed to find if joint action should be taken on Marincello. Hoffmire and Souza voted for the proposal.
6. Agreed to view lights of the Belvedere tennis club again beginning at 7:15 p.m. Thursday.
7. Set 8 p.m. March 2 at Del Mar School as the time to complete consideration of the night's agenda.

Last-Minute Protest Filed On Dock Plan

A last-minute protest has been registered over the proposed dock reconditioning and extension in Tiburon.

Main Street Properties and Harbor Carriers, Inc., asked for a navigational permit to repair and extend a dock at Main Street and Tiburon Boulevard, adding a pinger pier, ramp, float and dophins.

The Army Corps of Engineers was ready to issue a navigational permit for the construction yesterday until the corps learned that the City of Tiburon has not issued a use permit for the proposed float.

A corps spokesman said the Army permit will be subject to negotiation and will not be issued until the conflict can be solved.

PARK NEEDS MAY UP NOVATO TAXES

Council Tries To Find Another Way Out; Not Sure How Much Money Is Required

Novato city councilmen, averse to adding anything to the property tax (the city levied 33 cents this year), decided last night to do it anythow to raise money for parks — for one year.

For the longer pull, they still want to look into a bedroom tax on new homes, a gimmick adopted by the City of Modesto when it found itself at the legal limit in property tax rates and still wanted more money.

Councilman William Jack Adams even proposed a city-wide assessment district rather than any boost in the property tax.

The one-year tax hike to finance parks was proposed by Councilman J. Wayne Womack after City Atty. Clark M. Palmer Jr. told Adams, "Any assessment proceeding is a formidable barrier to overcome."

Councilman Lucille Cannon asked whether the commercial area could be excluded from the tax. Palmer replied it could not.

Mrs. Cannon then suggested that part of the tax be put aside for off-street parking for the commercial area.

It then developed that the councilmen had no idea of how much money they were talking about for purchase of parks.

City Administrator J. Julien Baget and his staff were asked to work up some figures.

Still fascinated with possibilities of the bedroom tax, the council asked Palmer to request an attorney general's opinion on whether it would be legal for a general law city.

Modesto, a charter city, recently enacted a special tax of $15 per house and $5 per bedroom on new construction. This was held legal by the state attorney general.

Palmer said Fairfield, a general law city, has enacted such a tax, but without an attorney general's opinion on its legality.

George Amaroli of 11 Rebecca Way told the council it should finance city improvements through the normal tax structure, not such innovations as a bedroom tax.

The Novato City Council Also:

1. Approved K. D. N. Corp.'s grading plan for Kaden Park Unit 2. One major cut would be as high as 52 feet where the new city ordinance sets a limit of 20 feet. City planner Robert Lagle said, however, this cut could be made in a series of 20-foot cutbanks.
2. Approved hiring Stuart Davis, San Francisco records consultant for $1,000, and spending up to $1,000 additional for supplies to install a system of classifying and indexing council minutes and actions.
3. Accepted the tree trimming project in Pioneer Memorial Cemetery as completed.
4. Passed an ordinance moving the burglar alarm panel from the main fire station to the police station.
5. Introduced an ordinance annexing the Walter Kieckhefer property of 20 acres on Ignacio Boulevard to the city. This is a proposed commercial development just west of Highway 101.
6. Rezoned from limited agricultural to multiple and single family residential four acres north of Center Road and West of Diablo Avenue, reqeusted by McGillicuddy Inc.; from single family to planned commercial, 25 acres west of Highway 101 and south of Novato Creek owned by Harry Heifetz et al, and from agricultural to single family all of the Gnoss Estates south of Olive Avenue.
7. Introduced an ordinance rezoning from multiple to planned residential four acres on South Novato Boulevard South of the Nave Shopping Center, owned by Richard Connell.
8. Approved the final map of Meadowbrook Estates of 12 lots south of Center Road at the West Novato School for Stephen Roberts.

Inmate Gets 5 Years For Possessing Knife

Stanley R. Davis, San Quentin inmate convicted last Thursday of illegal possession of a knife, was given a five-year sentence yesterday by Judge Samuel W. Gardiner of Marin Superior Court.

The sentence is consecutive to time Davis is serving for a possession of marijuana conviction in Los Angeles County. Davis had a 10-inch blade with taped handle in his possession at the prison last Feb. 11.

More Density Favored For Knolls Area

The balance of the undeveloped area of Enchanted Knolls Hill should be developed in residential units averaging three to five dwelling units per acre, the Mill Valley Planning Commission agreed last night. This is a change from one to three dwelling units per acre, originally proposed.

The change was one of several made in the preliminary east Mill Valley general plan which the commission has had under study since November. The commission set for March 23 official public hearing on the plan. City planning director Harvey Bragdon will present it to the Sausalito planning commission March 3.

Commissioners agreed that the area on the south side of Miller Avenue between Montford Avenue and Reed Street should remain residential rather than becoming commercial, and said Sycamore Avenue should be extended from Camino Alto to Highway 101 frontage road.

Plans were approved for Richard Dunn to construct six apartment units in three buildings at 190 Throckmorton avenue.

Novato Trustees Add New Courses

Trustees of the new Novato Unified School District last night approved new courses to be offered next school year at Novato High School.

The courses, suggested by Principal Robert Wisgerhof, include a second year of aeronautics and electronics, a second course in welding, a one-semester course in economics, a life science course open only to freshmen, and a one-semester course on introduction to languages.

The trustees, with William Vandergriff and Marett B. Boissevain absent, approved a summer school for first through seventh grades July 6 through Aug. 19, and for eighth grade through 11th grades July 2 through Aug. 13.

Taranto To Seek Post On Council

Robert F. Loberg of 392 Devon Drive, San Rafael, announced today that he would not run for the San Rafael city council.

At the same time Irwin Taranto of 144 Duran Drive, San Rafael, announced that he will run.

Loberg said today that he told Taranto of his decision not to run last night. He said he will soon take on a new job that will require so much time he does not feel he can do the city council job justice.

Taranto, 30, a special service representative for Radio Corp. of America, is a member of the city parks and recreation commission.

He says he is running to represent "new areas of the city."

He said nomination papers would be taken out by his wife, Arlene, today. The couple has two children.

Loberg said his nomination papers had been taken out and circulated, but they will not be filed. He is president of the Terra Linda Valley Homeowners Assn.

Filing dates are from Friday until March 12. So far, incumbents Harry A. Barbier and Louis H. Baar have taken out papers. C. Paul Bettini has taken out papers to file for mayor, and papers have been taken out on behalf of Mayor John F. McInnis, but he has not said yet whether he will seek re-election.

Case Against Father Dropped

Felony complaint of endangering the health of a small son was dismissed yesterday against Archie Columbus Rowell, 29, of McAlister, Okla., by Judge Joseph G. Wilson in Marin Municipal Court.

The action followed information by the district attorney's office that Oklahoma courts have since granted Rowell temporary custody of the child, Roger, aged 2.

Rowell was arrested in Modesto last week on a warrant from Marin County alleging he took the child on June 17 from the mother, who was staying with friends at a Point Reyes Peninsula ranch. The child had only been out of a Modesto hospital a few days, deputies said.

Driver Fined $193

Raymond Rene Chattman, 31, of 446 School Road, Novato, was fined $193 yesterday in Marin Municipal Court for drunken driving. He was arrested by Novato police on Feb. 7.

Reed Budget May Allow Cent Tax Cut

A budget proposing an increase of $95,369 in expenditures, but a 1-cent drop in the tax rate was unveiled before Reed School District trustees last night.

The increased monies will come from increased assessed valuation, population and state funds, Supt. Edward C. Pino reported. The major cost increases are due to the regular steps up in salaries, he said. Operating costs also will rise with opening of Granada School.

But the tax rate, presently $3.595 per $100 assessed valuation, would drop about a penny, Pino said. The figure includes general fund, over-ride taxes, and loan and bond repayments.

Trustees tentatively set their March 9 meeting at Del Mar School for an item-by-item dissection of budget figures.

They approved calling for bids by 5 p.m. March 23 for construction of the second part of Granada School.

Trustee David D. Ring was absent.

Aide's Rehiring Lags; Judge Sounds Off

San Francisco Superior Court Judge Joseph Karesh yesterday rose hotly to the defense of Lester H. Hingsbergen of San Rafael, ousted Department of Motor Vehicles employee.

On Feb. 3, Judge Karesh ordered that Hingsbergen be reinstated as chief Northern California investigator for the department. The judge said he was to go back to work yesterday.

When the judge learned yesterday that Hingsbergen was not back at work as ordered, he had some hot words.

"When I find he should go back to work, he's going back to work right away," the judge said. "This man has devoted 28 years of faithful service with an unblemished record."

The state department said it did not re-employ Hingsbergen because the judge's Feb. 3 order had been appealed by the state attorney general.

The judge, evidently hearing of the appeal for the first time yesterday, said the attorney general or his representative must appear in court March 8 and show why Hingsbergen should not go back to work.

"I don't consider civil servants second class citizens," Judge Karesh said.

Hingsbergen, of 32 Dellwood Court, was fired in June, 1963, after a department investigation. He was accused of coercing department employees to sell raffle tickets, of doing favors for car dealers and of having employees run non-department errands on state time.

Gambling Casino For Teen-Agers Is Broken Up

HAWORTH, N.J. (UPI) — It appeared to be just another home in a well-to-do neighborhood but hundreds of dollars changed hands in the basement where teen-agers had crowded behind gambling tables in a Las Vegas atmosphere.

Police Chief Gaston Michel disclosed yesterday that his men had broken up the plush gambling casino, operated by three teen-agers and catering to a teen-age clientele. An anonymous tip, apparently from the parent of a youth who fell too far into debt, led police to stakeout the home on Feb.10.

More than 50 boys gambled in the casino while their parents "thought they were out skating or sledding," the chief said.

Arrested in the raid Sunday were the adult owners of the home, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Olsen, and their maid, Mrs. Minnie Catham.

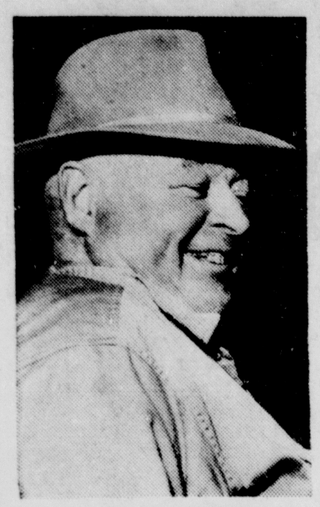
Rancher's Humane Hearing Postponed



J. A. FAGUNDES
Seeking attorney

Rancher J. A. Fagundes, charged with three counts of animal cruelty, appeared alone in Marin Municipal Court yesterday for arraignment and was granted a week's continuance to obtain a lawyer.

Fagundes asked for two weeks, but was told by Judge Joseph G. Wilson that a single week was standard, and further continuances could be considered later. Judge Wilson scheduled plea for 1:30 p.m. next Tuesday.

Fagundes is free on $1,000 bail. He is accused of neglect of horses, cattle and pigs on his ranch on the west side of Highway 101, south of Lucas Valley Road. The ranch property has been sold to Permabilt Corp. and Kaehler-Farrar Development Co. for subdivision.

The animal treatment was termed an "outrage" by Marin County Humane Society officials. At least one horse died as a result of neglect, and pigs reportedly fed on carcasses of dead sheep, investigators alleged.

A large barn on the property, called a health hazard by county officials, was burned Saturday at request of Kaehler-Farrar, present owners.

Ross Valley Flood Control Zone Urged

Marin County is proposing formation of a flood control zone for Ross Valley, which would include Ross, Corte Madera, Larkspur, San Anselmo and Fairfax.

Public Works Director Donald R. Frost reported the proposal yesterday in a letter to supervisors concerning an erosion threat to Winship Avenue, Ross.

A flood control zone would be the agency to provide maintenance for the proposed Corte Madera Creek Flood Control project, Frost said.

The Army Corps of Engineers, which is planning the project, requires that the county provide for maintenance of the installations, he said.

Winship Avenue is in danger because of erosion and there is undermining of the avenue in the area opposite 5 Winship Avenue and at the rear of 24 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard.

Frost recommended removal of several trees that have fallen into Corte Madera Creek, regarding of the creek bottom for approximately 200 feet, and placement of riprap for about 150 feet to a height of about 15 feet above the stream bed.

The approximate cost of these three jobs would be $15,000 to $20,000, he estimated.

Slope, Cluster Policy Hearing

The San Rafael Planning Commission will hold a special meeting at 7:30 p.m. March 16 for a hearing on the city's proposed slope and cluster housing policies.

Commissioners declined to discuss the slope policy in much detail last night after City Planner George H. Rodgers said he had not yet completed a draft of the cluster policy.

The slope policy is a proposed amendment to the city's subdivision ordinance. The cluster policy would become part of the zoning ordinance.

Man Gets Probation In Exposing Case

A 24-year-old Nebraska man, committed to Atascadero State Hospital in January of 1964 for treatment as a sexual deviate, was placed on five years probation in Marin Superior Court yesterday for exposing himself to two 10-year-old Mill Valley girls on Oct. 12, 1963.

Derward Murel Cranfill, whose permanent home is Lexington, Neb., was convicted of the charge Dec. 9, 1963, and had a prior conviction.

Youth Gets Prison For Theft Of Auto

Roy Lee Burts, 20, was sentenced to one to five years in prison for car theft yesterday by Judge Thomas F. Keating in Marin Superior Court.

San Rafael Police Probe Theft Of Safe

San Rafael police today were investigating the theft yesterday of a safe containing $4,055 from DiPietro's Lounge, 1 Vivian Way.

The thieves apparently entered the lounge before closing time and hid until everyone else had left, police theorized, then draped the safe with painters' drop cloths and wheeled it out the front door on a dolly.

Report of the theft was made by employee Ted E. Duro, who found the front door ajar and the lights on when he arrived for work yesterday.

Police said the front door lock had been broken off from the inside, and there was no sign of forced entry through other doors or windows.

Today, officers were querying persons who might have seen the thieves carrying out the safe. If their theory is correct, police said, witnesses might have assumed the men were janitors moving equipment.

Commander Is Named For 28th Air Division

Brig. Gen. Carroll W. McColpin will assume command of the 28th Air Division and deputy command of the 28th NORAD region from Maj. Gen. Conrad F. Necrason at Hamilton Air Force Base on April 1.

General Necrason was scheduled to retire on that date, but retirement extended to June to carry out special assignments for the commander of the Air Defense Command.

General McColpin, a World War II fighter ace, has been vice commander of the 28th Air Division at Hamilton since last October. He was former commander of the San Francisco Air Defense Sector at Beale Air Force Base. Prior to coming to Hamilton, he was commander of the Portland Air Defense Sector in Oregon.

He flew Hurricanes and Spitfires for the Royal Air Force as a member of the American Eagle Squadron prior to U. S. entry into World War II. He was transfered to the U. S. Army Air Force in September, 1942.

During the war, he commanded fighter squadrons in England, France and Belgium.

His flying experience, which dates back to 1927, includes 45 types of aircraft, including F-101 Voodoo, F-102 Delta Daggers and the F-106 Delta Darts. He has been decorated 20 times.

Gen. and Mrs. McColpin, both natives of Buffalo, N. Y., have two children, Mary Patricia and Carol W. They live at 224 Oakwood Drive on the base.

Court Handles 89 Matters

A criminal calendar of 89 matters, believed a record length, was handled yesterday in Marin Municipal Court.

The 4½-hour session, which ended about 6 p.m., included 15 felony complains hearings, along with 13 probation matters. Major reason for its length was weekend matters, coupled with courts being closed Monday in observance of Washington's Birthday.

Judge Joseph G. Wilson presided.

Ross Board Balks At Data Processing

Trustees of the Ross School District last night balked at the idea of reducing students to digits on punch cards.

After considerable discussion, trustees postponed any action on the offer of College of Marin to handle data processing for the district.

Ross trustees postponed discussion until March 15.

Trustees heard a request from the Ross School District Teachers Assn. asking a 4 per cent salary increase next school year. Supt. William M. Monahan was asked to prepare budget figures showing the effect of such an increase.

Trustees voted again against single-district unification of the Tamalpais High School District with the elementary districts within its boundaries. The issue will be on the April 20 ballot.

Trustee William A. Niccolls announced that he will not seek re-election to the board April 20. Incumbents Mrs. Marjorie McGee and Ray A. Hubbard will run. Filings close March 5.

Hubbard was absent last night.

Subdivision Plan Vote Deadlocked

Six San Rafael planning commissioners last night spent an hour considering the tentative map for the first 273 lots of the San Rafael Park subdivision near Lucas Valley Road, then deadlocked 3-3 on whether to approve it.

Accepting the inevitable, Chairman Fred C. Robbins Jr. switched his vote to permit 4-2 passage of a motion setting the matter over two weeks.

Commissioners seemed to gree generally with City Planner George H. Rodgers' recommendations that several conditions, mostly relating to road widths, be attached to the map's approval.

They split, however, on whether it was necessary for Dubin Developers Inc. to present a new map, incorporating the changes, before they could act on it.

Commissioners Pat Hetherton, John Miskimen and V. Judson Klein said they wanted to see the new map. They were opposed by Commissioners Thomas R. O'Toole and Carl S. Brown and chairman Robbins.

The San Rafael Planning Commission Also:

1. Recommended rezoning a lot at 320 Third Street, owned by Wallace L. Marinko, from apartment to commercial.

2. Approved a lot split sought by William Tobias on Broad-View Drive opposite Broadview Court.

3. Approved a three-lot subdivision by Kurt Hilmer on the north side of Lovell Avenue between Irwin Street and DeLuca Place.

4. Approved the second of two alternate plans submitted by William J. Nelson for a lot split on Forbes Avenue between Quarry and Culloden Park roads.

5. Approved the tentative 98-lot map of Terra Linda Unit 21, submitted by Alameda Homes Corp.

6. Denied M. H. Johnson of 706 Belle Avenue a two-lot variance permit so he could build a family room. Commissioners ruled there was no hardship involved.

7. Granted Michael O'Hearne a variance permit to cut a flat rear yard area in a sloping slope where he plans to build a cantilevered home. City Planner Rodgers urged denial, saying the slope bank could be cut to provide more level area in the rear.

8. Issued a use permit and gave architectural approval for the proposed Bank of Marin building on the northeast corner of Fifth Avenue and B Street. Six illuminated signs were approved along with the plans.

9. Granted Anthony Petaovich a use permit for a barber shop at 676 Point San Pedro Road.

10. Granted use permit and architectural approval for a marine engine and electrical service on the San Rafael Canal in the Montecito Shopping Center.

11. Granted a use permit to Frank Maglotti for a car wash and gasoline pumps on the Lincoln Avenue extension between Irwin and Lindaro streets.

12. Set a "courtesy" hearing March 9 on Joe Allen's application to build a 99-bed nursing and rest home at 247 Picnic Avenue. Fire Chief Vance Trivett will be asked to say whether the site has fire access problems.

13. Set for March 9 and 23 hearings on zoning of two 100-acre areas, in San Rafael Park and San Rafael Cayes subdivisions, for planned community.

Pleads Guilty To Burglary

William Harvey Switzer, 21, pleaded guilty in Marin Superior Court yesterday to burglary. Judgment was scheduled for March 15.

Switzer, of San Anselmo Hotel, entered Jean's Bit O'Bohemia, 607 San Anselmo Avenue, and the Gourmet Nutrition Shop, 609 San Anselmo Avenue, on Jan. 6.

Marincello Request

Sausalito-Marin City Sanitary District directors last night appointed a committee to study a request from Frouge Corp. that the district provide sewage facilities to Marincello. Frank I. Lawson and John J. Gallas were appointed to the committee.

Lot-Split Law Hearing Is Set

Marin County supervisors will conduct a hearing on a revised county lot-split ordinance March 16 at 2 p.m.

The ordinance, recommended by the county planning commission, would replace the emergency lot-split ordinance passed by supervisors last October, covering land divisions of less than four lots.

Where improvements such as curbs, gutters and sidewalks are mandatory in the present ordinance, they would be required at the discretion of the planning director under the revised ordinance.

Unified School Board Size Seen As No Voting Problem

By BRYCE W. ANDERSON

The State Board of Education is not much concerned with whether five or seven members govern the unified San Rafael-Dixie school district, and a new proceeding to reduce the number may not be necessary.

This is the opinion of Dr. Daniel A. Collins of Mill Valley, chairman of the state board.

Action on the unification was postponed last week when County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney told the Marin County Committee on School District Organization that the San Rafael Board of Education might have to be the governing board, since the San Rafael district is a city charter district. The proposal approved by the state board called for a seven-member board of trustees elected at large.

Maloney said the whole proposal might have to be re-submitted to reduce the number of board members to five — the number specified by the San Rafael city charter.

Asked whether this would be necessary, Collins replied yesterday:

"I don't believe so. As long as the attorney general, our legal counsel and the county counsel can agree on the legality of the procedure, the state would have no objection.

"Whether there are seven or five members is not a critical matter. The state doesn't care."

The matter of election at large poses no problem. The San Rafael Board of Education is elected at large from the area of the San Rafael High School District. The area of high school district includes both San Rafael and Dixie elementary school districts.

One current member of the board of education, Walter J. Doll, is a Dixie District resident and a former Dixie District trustee.

Another Dixie District trustee, Lawrence J. Kramer, is a candidate for the San Rafael board in the April 12 election.

If an election can be held in conformance with the city charter without submission of a new proposal through channels to the state board, it might be possible to hold it before next June 30 — thus qualifying for some $170,000 in additional state aid under the Unruh Act.

Sestion 3153 of the State Education Code provides that unification elections called in accordance with county committee recomendations "shall be held between July 1 and June 30 of the school year in which the county superintendent of schools was given notice by the State Board of Education . . . except that if such notice is not received on or before May 1, the election may be held between July 1 and June 30 of the following school year."

Actually, the San Rafael city charter provides for the equivalent of a unified school district in the area in which the election is proposed.

Article XI, Section 1 of the charter says: "The school department of the city of San Rafael shall comprise all the schools within the city of San Rafael, the San Rafael school district, and all territory that is now or may be hereafter annexed thereto for school purpose . . . It shall consist of elementary and secondary schools as now established or that may hereafter be established."

Board Fails To Reach Vote Accord

The San Rafael Board of Education could not reach accord last night on legislation to clear the way for a vote on San Rafael-Dixie school unification.

The Dixie School District board is scheduled tonight to consider proposed state legislation that would make a seven-man school board valid for a unified district even though the city charter calls for five men.

San Rafael's board members debated the subject. Board Chairman C. Paul Bettini thought a seven-member board would be unwieldy. So did board member John M. Bagshaw.

Board Member Walter J. Doll said he favored the seven-man board on a political basis, arguing that it should assure the Dixie area more representation.

Board Member Carl J. Brown said he hoped no one "north of the hill" thinks they are not getting adequate representation just because "we happen to live in San Rafael."

Marincello City Plans Expected

Plans for Marincello, proposed city of 25,000 west of Sausalito, are expected to be submitted to the county planning department within 30 to 60 days, Planning Director B. D. Dobbs told the board of supervisors yesterday.

Supervisors said that when plans arrive, copies should be submitted to the cities of Mill Valley and Sausalito.

Unification Meeting Set

Three parent-teacher associations will sponsor a public informational meeting on the proposed unification of San Rafael and Dixie school districts in chambers at the Civic Center at 8 p.m. tomorrow.

Speakers will be Earl C. Marshall, chairman of the Marin County Committee on School District Organization, Supt. Dennie B. Willis of the Dixie School District, and Supt. Bert C. Corona of San Rafael city schools.

The session will be sponsored by parent-teacher associations of MacPhail, Hartzell and Santa Venetia schools.

Meeting Postponed

Meeting of the San Rafael Park and Recreation District, originally scheduled for tonight, has been postponed until 8 p.m. March 10 in San Rafael City Hall. Commissioners will discuss the budget for the next fiscal year.

Dixie Trustees To See Seven-Man Board Plan

Dixie School District trustees will get their first look tonight at a two-million-dollar-plus budget for next school year and at proposed legislation to override the San Rafael city charter in providing for a seven-man board for the unified San Rafael-Dixie school district.

The preliminary budget is to be presented by Supt. Dennie B. Willis at the board's 8 p.m. meeting in the district administration office. It calls for an outlay of $2,084,050 for fiscal 1966, up $297,100 over this year's $1,786,950.

Addition of a ninth school and about 450 pupils is responsible for the increases, according to Willis.

The board is scheduled to consider a resolution advocating legislation "to resolve legal difficulties in unification of Dixie and San Rafael school districts." County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney has been asked to submit a proposed bill legalizing a seven-man unified district board despite San Rafael city charter requirement for a five-member board of education.

The legal difficulty arises from the fact that the Marin County Committee on School District Organization submitted a unification plan calling for a seven-member board, and it was approved by the State Board of Education. After that approval, Maloney discovered that he might have been relying unduly on an attorney general's opinion regarding a Santa Cruz unification which included a chartered city school district—since every city charter is different.

The Dixie board is expected also to receive Willis's recommendations regarding a school site on the Fagundes Ranch property, and outlay of $9,910 for equipment for an already-approved National Defense Education Act foreign language laboratory. Contract for building the Dixie School in upper Lucas Valley is expected to be awarded to Page Construction Co. of Novato, low bidder when offers were opened last week.

San Rafael Schools Join Data Program

The San Rafael Board of Education last night agreed to let the College of Marin's proposed data processing center do electronic computing work for San Rafael schools.

Asst. Supt. Mitchell L. Voydat told the board the annual cost would be about $17,000. San Rafael City Schools now pay Marin County $13,000 for data processing.

The college would also provide fiscal accounting, a new system. This would account for the added $4,000 Voydat said.

Board Member John M. Bagshaw, who earlier opposed a proposal that city schools acquire data processing equipment, praised the college plan.

On another fiscal matter, the board approved a $4,200 audit bill even though it was $1,200 higher than estimated.

Lawrence Weseman of accountants Main, LaFrentz and Co., Oakland, told the board that work at posting accounts to funds, not done by school accountants, added to the cost.

The San Rafael Board of Education also:

1. Asked for informal negotiations with Jack Sims, one of the owners of an 80-foot lot at 1849 Fifth Avenue which could be added to West End School.
2. Accepted resignation of Susan Heil, fourth grade teacher at Short School, effective March 1 on condition that a suitable replacement is found. She is leaving to get married.
3. Appointed Mrs. Carla Thomas to a new position as intermediate grade teacher for next school year.
4. Accepted gifts of a world globe from Mrs. Robert Birr and a television set from Mrs. Robert Links.
5. Set annual personnel meeting for 7:30 p.m. March 16 at E Street School.

Marincello Stand Asked Of Council

Vice Mayor Melvin S. Wax of Sausalito last night asked his colleagues to take a stand on the proposed city of Marincello at next Tuesday's council meeting, saying, "I think the whole scheme is suspect."

"The more I hear about this project," he said, "the more upset I am about it. I'm told Martin Meyerson (former dean of the College of Environmental Design at University of California, Berkeley) has withdrawn his name from it and will have nothing to do with it.

"I think it's bad for Marin County and bad for Sausalito and we would be derelict in our duty if we don't do something about it." Wax said he will introduce a resolution Tuesday.

Mayor Jan Paul Dyk told the city council he had urged the county board of supervisors to hold off on zoning the proposed planned community but the supervisors "took a step in the wrong direction."

"I don't think the supervisors have gone too far," said Wax. "They can still turn it down. I think they should turn it down."

"I fully agree with you," said Dyk.

Neil E. Davis, proprietor of the No Name Bar, passed brochures to councilmen from the Committee to Save the Golden Gate, saying he agreed with Wax.

"I think we have all been very negligent in letting this get as far as we have. It seems to me they have outsmarted you," said Davis.

Calling the proposed City of 25,000 the "Foggy Frouge Frankenstein," Davis said, "You are looking for the water out here (in Sausalito) and they were sneaking up on the back side."

Bid Sale At HAFB

Vehicle spare parts, an ambulance and a trailer are available at a bid sale by the Defense Surplus Sales Office at Hamilton Air Force Base. They may be seen until March 16, when bids will be opened at the Oakland Defense Surplus Sales Office.

Lumbering Is Cleared On Floods

SANTA ROSA (UPI) — A survey recently completed by the American Forest Products Industries and released by the Redwood Region Conservation Council, showed this week that "lumbering practices had little or no effect on the Christmas week floods along the Eel River."

The report, a comprehensive study based on data from the Weather Bureau, the U.S. Geological Survey, the Army Corps of Engineers, Forest Service, and the California Department of Water Resources, was made in response to reports logging operations had contributed to the floods.

According to the survey, the Eel River was "rampaging at 600,000 cubic feet per second, a flood of tremendous magnitude," by the time it reached the redwood logging region.

"The flood was caused by heavy rain and rapid snowmelt," the U.S. Geological Survey said. "In some areas rainfall was 400 per cent above normal."

Homes Sought For Students

Officials of Golden Gate Baptist Theological Seminary at Strawberry are looking for temporary homes for 350 college students who will be among those attending a missions conference at the school March 5-7.

A total of 500 students are expected at the conference to hear of missionary work in the United States and foreign countries.

Among speakers at the conference will be Nathan Porter of Atlanta, Ga., secretary of the Home Mission Board of the church, and William Marshall, secretary of the Foreign Mission Board in Richmond, Va.

Labor Speaker Set

Dr. John Carroll, education director of the California Labor Foundation, will be featured speaker at the Marin Central Labor Council's annual installation dinner, scheduled for 8 p.m. March 3 at Sabella's Restaurant, Alto.

INCOME TAX FACTS

Rules Rule Out Taxes Deductions

By PETER JAMES WIKEL, C.P.A.

The rules have been changed to permit only the deduction of a very few taxes.

Deductible on both your federal and California:

Personal property taxes. This includes the "in-lieu" portion of auto license fees. That is, the amount paid in excess of the registration fee of ($9 for a station wagon).

Real Estate taxes.

Sales and use taxes. California 3 per cent. Local 1 per cent.

State gasoline tax. California 7 cents per gallon.

Deductible on the Federal return, but no on the California return:

State income tax.

PLYMOUTH'S CAR OF THE FUTURE

This new idea car by Plymouth, known as the "V.I.P.," made its debut at the recent Chicago Auto Show. Metal part of the top consists only of a longitudinal roll bar which acts as a guide for the upper portion of the flexible glass top. The glass can be retracted into the trunk. Inside the car, the driver has a rear vision scope on the instrument panel which is actually a television picture of the road behind. Plymouth has no plans for producing the car commercially.

Airline Requests New System

WASHINGTON — Pan American Airways sought approval today from the Federal Aviation Agency for a new instrument system that would ultimately land jets at airports when visibility approaches zero conditions.

The application is a step toward all-weather operation for landing DC-8 jets at certain airports when the ceiling is 100 feet and visibility a quarter of a mile, the company said.

Present regulations, which apply at San Francisco airport, require 200 foot ceilings and a half mile visibility.

New equipment for these landings, built to Pan Am's specifications, includes radio altimeters, a horizon flight indicator and an improved automatic pilot system.

Canada Street Prices Go Up

HAMILTON, Ont. (UPI) — Further increases in the price of steel were expected this week following the announcement by the Steel Company of Canada that it was raising the price for bar mill products an average four per cent.

It was the first hike in Canadian steel prices since 1957.

New Sales Record

Market Closes Higher After Heavy Trading

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market closed higher in heavy trading today.

With evidence of more public participation, many secondary issues made wide gains.

Steels and selected blue chips continued market leadership.

Eastern Air Lines was a big feature, up more than 3, as was KLM Airlines, up 4.

Up more than a point were International Nickel, Kennecott, Texaco, General Electric, United Air Lines and Control Data.

Volume for the day was estimated at 7 million shares compared with 5.83 million yesterday.

Here was the picture near the close:

Gains of fractions to a point or so among key stocks were the general rule.

Bigger gains were scored by a wide variety of secondary issues scattered throughout the list.

Steels resumed their market leadership, posting a string of gains, some of which were pared as the session wore on. Jones & Laughlin remained more than a point higher. Republic and U.S. Steel were up nearly a point.

Aerospace stocks faded, with Boeing off more than a point. Oils showed little change, although Texaco was up nearly a point. A jump of nearly 2 by International Harvester and a rise of more than a point by Westinghouse Electric helped the averages.

IBM rose 2, Xerox nearly 3 and Control Data more than a point. U.S. Smelting fell more than 3.

Up nearly 3 was KLM Airlines.

REAL BARGAIN AVAILABLE TO BUREAUCRATS

Automation has reached the point where, like people, it can pile up a lot of old papers around the place that nobody needs.

Marin County supervisors learned this yesterday when Auditor - Controller Michael Mitchell asked for permission to dispose of two tons of used IBM cards.

Supervisors Seek Answers On Aide Files

By ALAN CUNNINGHAM

Who keeps the personnel records on Marin County employees?

County supervisors tried hard to find out yesterday, as they explored complaints by a committee of the 1964 grand jury that the files are in the wrong place.

They never did get a complete answer, but concluded that things will improve later this year under a new system using the county's IBM equipment to make duplicate records.

Present were Clifford S. Lund, chairman of the former jury's county offices committee, and 1964 jury foreman Joseph Warren Crane.

In December, Lund's committee charged that records which should have been in the office of Personnel Director Robert D. Elliott were instead kept by Auditor-Controller Michael Mitchell.

Supervisors had not discussed the complaint until yesterday, when they read a letter in which Mitchell denied this. He said the only records in his office were those he needed for payroll and other financial purposes.

"Elliott," said Lund, "should not have to run downstairs or pick up the telephone every time he wants some information."

County Administrator Alan Bruce said a system is planned in which the data processing equipment will prepare duplicate records for Elliott and Mitchell. The start of this will be included in fiscal 1966 budget requests, he said.

Lund complained that he could see no reason to wait. He urged that the records simply be picked up and carried to Elliott's office.

Mitchell said he could let go of none of them.

Perplexed, supervisors tried in vain to learn which office actually housed each employee's basic personnel jacket.

They got answers which seemed at times to contradict each other. Elliott said he was not sure a uniform system of "jackets" even existed, but said he was working to get one started.

Pointing out that Elliott's post has existed for "only" three years, supervisors asked Lund and Crane to be patient.

Strep Infections Hit In Novato

New cases of streptococcic infection in Marin were again concentrated in Novato last week, Dr. Carolyn B. Albrecht, county health officer, reported yesterday.

Novato had 55 out of the 83 streptococcic cases reported. Other cases were reported in most parts of the county, except Marin City, Ross and Fairfax.

Other cases of communicable diseases reported to Dr. Albrecht were mumps, 15 cases, measles, two, and gonorrhea, five.

Lawyers Join Murakami Forces

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Lawyers are stepping into the international controversy over baseball pitcher Masanori Murakami, the first Japanese national to play in the American major leagues.

A San Francisco law firm retained by the Nankai Hawks of Japan said yesterday that a signature on a release document to the San Francisco Giants was not that of Tsuguhiro Iwase, the Hawks' managing director.

Therefore, the attorneys said, the release was invalid along with a contract Murakami signed with the Giants for the 1965 season.

Both the Giants and Hawks say the object of the controversy, Murakami, has inked 1965 contracts with them. The 20-year-old lefty is presently with the Japanese club.

Vice President Charles Feeney of the Giants said the release was sent to Japan and was returned with the signatures. The Giants official said he knows one signature was that of Murakami and assumed the other was Iwase's.

Feeney said negotiations were handled through Tsuneo (Cappy) Harada, an agent for the Hawks.

The attorneys say their Japanese clients thought Harada was middle man for, the Giants and Hawks to "arrange an understanding." They say he was not a Hawk agent.

"I'm disgusted," Feeney said following the Hawks' statements. "I think this is rotten. Everything we did was in good faith and on the up and up."

"First of all, we didn't go looking for Japanese players," the Giants official said. "Harada came to us as the Hawks'agent."

The Japanese team maintains it was lending, not selling, Murakami and that it thought $10,000 given them by the Giants was a bonus, not a contract payment.

Baseball commissioner Ford Frick has ruled for the Giants in the controversy and said last week "there will be no further relations with Japanese baseball until this thing is settled to my satisfaction."

Redwood Giants Made A Mistake Qualifying For Champs Tourney

Redwood High School's varsity basketball players must be a bunch of nuts or somethin'.

Last Friday night they went and clinched the championship of the Marin Athletic League, which isn't the smartest thing in the world to do. But, there's no use crying over spilled milk. There's no turning back now.

DICK HART

You see, winning the Marin cage title is like taking a long walk on a short pier. Or being guest of honor at an execution.

What I mean is, Redwood now has to accept an invitation to the Tournament of Champions at Berkeley March 11-13. There, the Giants will be thrown into a pit loaded with the finest prep teams in Northern California. If form prevails, the Giants will be lucky to get past the first round. In fact, they'll be lucky to get across the Richmond-San Rafael Bridge. It would be safer for them to jump about mid-way across.

In the past, Marin teams haven't done very well in the T of C. Oh, I can remember a couple of victories, but generally our champs have been humiliated something awful.

Don't ask me why; we're just not a basketball county. Which is surprising. Being the Bounty County with the high average income, we should have a gymnasium in every backyard. But our teeners think gyms are for dances.

THE REDWOOD Giants might ask some of last year's San Rafael Bulldogs what the T of C is like. The poor San Rafael kids were unaware of the extreme dangers of mingling with other champs. In last year's tourney opener Sacred Heart annihilated the Marin champs 72-50 and the next day Napa eliminated them 63-51.

It pains me to remind you that a Marin Athletic League titlist has never won a first round game in the T of C. Our champs, in fact, lost seven straight tourney games until Tamalpais broke the string in 1963 by winning two consolation games after losing 61-36 to Sacred Heart in the opener. San Rafael played back to Marin's par for the course last year by losing two straight, so the Marin League record over at Berkeley is 2 consolation victories, 9 losses.

THROUGH ALL this adversity, however, our school kids have held up like troopers. Marin has the best losers in Northern California as our schools have won more T of C rooting section trophies than any other league! Or, when our teams get the deep six, we give 'em a big six.

What all this leads to is the necessity of a new format for the Tournament of Champions. Al Moss of the San Francisco Chronicle recently suggested tournament qualifying playoffs to weed out some of the dead wood. He proposed one such elimination between champs of the Marin and North Bay leagues. We'll endorse this 100 per cent.

I hope Coach Dick Hart and his Redwood Giants make me eat crow but I honestly think they'd be safer playing on Highway 101 than in the T of C.

P.S. The last time I wrote a column on this subject Tam went over to Berkeley fighting mad and won the consolation title. I hope this needle similarly penetrates Redwood's bark.

A POPULAR Marin high school coach appears a strong candidate for the vacant head grid coaching job at Napa College. He'll be interviewed this week, according to our Napa agents.

By the way this seems to be open season for job-hunting coaches as four good head grid positions are open. Besides Napa J.C., the other vacancies are at Tam, Santa Rosa and Lodi high schools after the resignations, respectively, of Pete Belden, Bob Bagley and John Gianoni.

Redwood Triumphs; Drake Grabs Upset

Giants Bop Tam Quint By 78-50

With the Marin Athletic League championship already safely locked up in their glittering showcase, the Redwood Giants celebrated yesterday by bombing Tamalpais 78-50 with reserves seeing considerable action.

In posting their 11th straight victory and lifting their MAL record to 10-1, the Giants hit their highest score of the season with 10 players contributing. Reserves, in fact, accounted for 24 of 29 points in a fourth quarter Redwood burst.

Coach Dick Hart's champions hit the bullseye on 29 of their 65 floor shots and really sizzled on the foul line from where they hit 20 of 26 charity shots as compared to Tam's 6 for 23.

Leading the Giants were Russ Smith with 16 points, Charley Davis with 12 and Don Detrick with 11.

Chuck Meyer led the Redwood rebounders with 11, but sprained his ankle in the second half and may miss the regular season casualty was reserve Dave Crossley, who also sprained an ankle.

Greg Tellis was Tam's top gun with 12 points, 9 of which came in the fourth quarter.

Pirates Surprise San Rafael

Down by 10 points, 12-22, early in the second quarter, the Drake Pirates stormed from behind to defeat San Rafael's Bulldogs 58-51 yesterday at San Rafael in a Marin Athletic League basketball upset.

The Pirates of Coach Carl Brown erupted for 20 points in the second period—8 by forward Rick Henika—to swing the tide in their favor and then sank 60 per cent of their floor shots (12 x 20) in the second half to stave off a San Rafael comeback attempt.

Drake thus tied San Rafael for second place behind champion Redwood, each with a 6-5 won-lost record.

Although San Rafael Coach Mike Diaz benched some of his first stringers for the first half, the Bulldog reserves shot off to a 12-9 first quarter lead and had a 22-12 edge early into the second period. But then Drake got hot and outscored the Bulldogs 17-2 to take a 29-24 halftime advantage.

San Rafael came back in the third period, briefly regained the lead at 33-32, but fell back as the Pirates made their shots count.

As in their two previous games, which they also lost, fouls hurt the Bulldogs. They were whistled down 22 times and Drake made 14 of 30 free throws attempts compared to San Rafael's 7 x 14 from the line. That was the big difference as each team canned 22 field goals. Drake had 50 shots and San Rafael 44.

Besides leading all scorers with 19 points, Henika also was top rebounder with 15 before he fouled out late in the game. Drake also beat San Rafael under the boards, 35-29, one of the few times this season the Bulldogs have been outrebounded.

Bill Ingram was a strong contributor to Drake's offense with 15 points. Terry Overlid led San Rafael with 10.

Novato Ends League Play With Win

Novato High School's Hornets cage team ended its Marin Athletic League season yesterday with a 52-47 triumph over Terra Linda on the Novato court.

The game was knotted at 25-25 after the first half, but the Hornets hit the bucket at a 50 per cent clip in the second half to outscore the Trojans by five points.

Terra Linda was ahead by four points with five minutes left in the game, but then Novato's John Dolinsek hit two field goals under the basket and Ev Fritz added two more buckets from outside to boost the Novato quint in front to stay.

The home court boys outrebounded Terra Linda 28 to 18, the first time Novato has ever beaten an opponent on the boards this year in league play.

Dolinsek, with 15 points, led the Novato scorers. Terra Linda was led by Brian Perron and Don Knotts, each with 13 points.

St. Louis is still without all-pro forward Bob Pettit, whose left leg is encased in a thigh-to-ankle cast. Pettit is handling the coaching chores when player-coach Richie Guerin is on the court.

Interview With Russ Cindermen

PALO ALTO, Calif. (AP) — Valery Brumel of Russia, who set the world high jump record at 7 feet 5¾ inches, isn't sure just how high a man might leap.

Asked at a news conference if he thought anyone might clear eight feet, he replied, "Why do you say eight feet. Why not say 10. For me, the maximum is probably 7-6."

Brumel will compete Friday night in the Golden Gate Invitational indoor meet at San Francisco. He and his teammates met with the press last night before being honored at a dinner in Palo Alto.

Brumel said the crowds in the United States have helped him do well.

"When crowds cheer for me, I try to do a little better and the results are better," he commented.

Brumel believes with the retirement of John Thomas of Boston that his top competition now will probably come from John Rambo of Long Beach, Calif., and Edward Czernik of Poland.

"I was sorry to see Thomas retire because I enjoyed competing with him," Brumel commented, and then added that he thought Thomas will make a comeback.

Broad jumper Igor Ter-Ovanesyan, who beat Ralph Boston in the AAU indoor meet at New York last weekend, said the reason he hasn't done well against the American star in outdoor events is "because I try too hard to get ready."

Boston aims to even the indoor score on Friday and will concentrate on the broad jump and not compete in the hurdles which he won in the AAU.

Pole vaulter Gennady Blitznetsov said he has been using fiber glass poles for three years. He broke two but found it was because he wasn't using one of the proper size for his 200 pounds.

Half miler Valery Bulishev was asked to list the world's best at the distance and answered, Peter Snell, Bill Crothers and Bulishev.

Tamara Press, the only female member of the Russian contingent, said she would like to compete for two more years but isn't sure she will defend her discus and shot put titles at the 1968 Olympics in Mexico City.

"In order for me to do better, I need more competition and I don't know just where I'm going to get it," Miss Press observed.

Finley Asks Feds To Kill CBS-Yanks Deal

WASHINGTON (AP) — Charles O. Finley, owner-president of the Kansas City Athletics, invited federal action today to nullify the sale of the New York Yankees to the Columbia Broadcasting System.

He told the Senate antitrust and monopoly subcommittee in prepared testimony he fears the CBS-Yankee deal may herald a big business "invasion" of professional sports, with the players and fans the ultimate losers.

But Chicago White Sox president Arthur C. Allyn Jr., who like Finley voted against the sale, said he is satisfied with the manner in which baseball now is policing the deal.

"The integrity of baseball is still being zealously protected," Allyn said in a preapred statement to the committee.

Allyn and Finley cast the two "no" ballots when the American League voted 8 to 2 last fall to approve the sale over their objections.

Their testimony highlighted this last scheduled day of the subcommittee's investigation of the transaction.

Finley enumerated what he called evils inherent in the sale of a baseball franchise to any television network, as he told the subcommittee:

"If federal action nullifies the sale I would be greatly relieved."

Sen. Phillip A. Hart, D.-Mich., subcommittee chairman, said in a statement the testimony showed that "there is no question now that the purchase by a major network of a major league ball club opens new possibilities for anticompetitive behavior."

Officials of the Yankees and CBS have testified they never would abuse their power to gain unfair advantage over other American League clubs. Finley challenged this.

He said the 8-2 vote approving the sale showed how much power the Yankees wield in the American League.

It was evident, he said, that "CBS, through the Yankees, can call the tune and seven others (the other club owners) will dance."

Finley said CBS has a place of vantage in bargaining for lucrative broadcast contracts.

Finley said he can understand antitrust exemptions for "personally owned" baseball clubs.

"However, I cannot see justification for exemptions if the major league teams are owned and operated by such large and widely held stock corporations as CBS," he said.

Finley said he can see evidence of a built-in conflict of interest in testimony that several other club owners own stock in CBS, thus giving them a financial stake in the CBS-owned Yankees.

Roger Rouse Retains His State Title

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP)—Roger Rouse, 172, of Opportunity, Mont., and San Jose, Calif., retained his California state light-heavyweight title last night on a majority 12-round decision despite almost being knocked out in the final round by challenger Clarence James, 164, of Richmond, Calif.

There were no knockdowns in the rousing battle that had the crowd of 400 at Oakland Auditorium on its feet. But in the last round Rouse was out on his feet, yet managed to stay erect by cleverly tying up his less experienced rival.

The two judges voted for Rouse, Elmer Costa 6-5 and Rudy Ortega 6-4. Referee Frankie Carter scored it a 5-5 draw.

The gross gate was $1,150.

Rough Weekend For Cal And Stanford

UCLA, undefeated in Pacific Athletic Conference play and ranked No. 2 in the nation, invades along with Southern California.

The Bruins of UCLA play at Stanford on Friday night and against California in the 3 p.m. regionally televised game on Saturday. USC meets California and then Stanford.

"We'll have to play 80 minutes of top basketball to beat UCLA and USC over the weekend," said Stanford assistant coach Bill Turner. Rene Herrerias, head coach at Cal, added, "We have the same switch, facing one of the best rebounding teams — the physically strong USC—and then taking on the all-court quickness of UCLA."

Pete Newell Jr., of San Jose State and Russ Gumina from the University of San Francisco were named co-players-of - the-week at the meeting of the Northern California Basketball Writers and Sportscasters Association.

Most of the session was devoted to a discussion of the recent basketball scandal involving two Seattle University players.

"It is ridiculous to sit back and think that gamblers operate only in other areas," said Stu Inman of San Jose State. "It could happen to us."

Coach Pete Peletta of USF spoke of safeguards, saying, "At the beginning of the season we discuss the seriousness of possible trouble from outside approaches. We want to be notified if players are approached in an abnormal way.

"On the road we do not allow incoming or outgoing phone calls. If they must leave our hotel for good reasons, we recommend they go in pairs."

St. Mary's coach Mike Cimino said, "Certainly I feel badly about the condemnation of basketball. But I think that, all things considered, the game has stood up real well. I blame society, not basketball."

USF Dons Wallop Santa Clara 90-68

United Press International

Guard Gail Goodrich of UCLA gave the Pacific Coast one berth on the official United Press International 1964-65 All America basketball team today. first team and two other Coast cagers were picked to the third team. They were Goodrich's teammate, Keith Erickson, and big Ollie Johnson of USF.

Honorable mention ratings went to three flashy guards. Jim Barnett of Oregon, Jim Jarvis of Oregon State, and Charlie Williams of Seattle.

Meanwhile, back on the courts, the University of San Francisco continued to make mincemeat of the rest of the West Coast Athletic Conference last night.

Not only are the Dons 10-0 after crushing Santa Clara, 90-68 at San Jose, but second-place Pacific fell to 6-4 with four conference games to go after losing to improved St. Mary's, 87-77, at Stockton.

Johnson High

Johnson's 26 points against the Broncs put him past the 1,500 mark for his career. Joe Ellis added 18 and Russ Gumina 15, while Mike Gervasoni meshed 15 for the losers.

St. Mary's got 25 points from Jim Reames and 23 from Bob Turner in winning their third straight.

In more WCAC action, Pepperdine climbed out of the cellar and Loyola plopped into it as Pepperdine took a 78-71 decision from the Lions. Gene Lowe and Roland Betts combined for 40 points. Dick Schiendler of Loyola had only 16 as he yielded the league scoring lead to Johnson.

Pete Newell Jr. hooped 19 to lead San Jose past a cold Santa Barbara team, 73-55.

Idle Chico State moved in front of the Far Western Conference when the California Aggies upset San Francisco State, 64-59, as Russ Slater hooped 17 markers and Ralph Johnson grabbed 15 rebounds. Chico is now 8-3 and San Francisco State and Nevada each 7-3.

Marichal's Baseball Career Began At Shortstop, Not On The Mound

(Second of four articles on Juan Marichal, key man in any 1965 pennant hopes of the Giants.)

HANLEY

In the Dominican Republic village of Lagunda Verde where he was born 27 years ago, Juan Marichal's baseball career started as a sandlot shortstop, not on the mound.

"My older brother, Gonzalo, was playing semi-pro ball," said Marichal. "He first taught me how to pitch. Before that I had been a shortstop. Then I learned more about pitching on the Dominican Air Force team while doing my military service. After signing with the Giants (for $500) Frank Shellenback helped me."

"I remember watching Juan when he first came to us in 1958," said Shellenback. "He threw a pitch to the outside, moving out. The next one hit the inside corner, breaking in. I went to the mound and asked him if he could do that all the time.

"He said he could. I couldn't believe him. So I told him to pitch one to the outside. He did. I told him to pitch inside and move the ball in. He did. I was convinced."

HUBBELL SIMILARLY was amazed at Marichal's control because of all the leg and arm motion the young man put into his delivery. He kicked as high as a chorus girl and his right hand almost touched the back of the mound as Marichal went into his windup.

"I never before saw a kid who needed no coaching," said Hubbell. "Juan knows it all."

Nevertheless, the strategy board of the Giants decided not to rush the pitching prodigy and started him in Class D ball at Michigan City where Marichal pitched in 35 games in 1958, completing 24, winning 21. In 1959 he was jumped to Class A ball at Springfield, Mass., and completed 23 out of 37, winning 18.

IT WAS THE same story when Marichal was moved up to AAA ball at Tacoma in 1960. Juan completed 12 out of 18, winning 11, in just half a season. There was no sense in keeping him in the minor leagues any longer. So he was summoned to the big team in July, 1960.

Marichal didn't know major league hitters any better than those he faced during his fast 2½ year tour through three minor leagues. But their reputations did not affect his poise on the mound where he looked like a veteran right from the start which began with a one-hit 2-0 shutout of the Phillies.

"I HAVE FIVE pitches," said Marichal after that debut. "Fast ball, change, curve, slider, screwball. I do what the catcher tells me."

Hobie Landrith was Marichal's catcher in the Dominican Dandy's first major league game and Landrith, like Shellenback and Hubbell, was amazed at Marichal's control.

"Some youngsters can control one pitch," said Landrith, "but this boy has control of five. There isn't a pitch he can't throw and he pinpoints the ball at the spot you ask for it."

UPI Names High Scoring Dream Team

NEW YORK (UPI) — Cazzie Russell of Michigan, the only junior honored, and Rhodes Scholar Bill Bradley of Princeton led the voting today for the United Press International 1965 All-America basketball team.

The late Wayne Estes of Utah State was the fifth man named to the collegiate team that was increased to six men for the first time because of Estes' accidental death Feb. 8.

Rick Barry of Miami (Fla.), Gail Goodrich of UCLA and Fred Hetzel of Davison are the other members of the first team.

High Scorers

A prerequisite for the 1965 team seemed to be scoring ability. Five of the members rank among the top eight scorers in the nation and the team average of 29.5 is the second highest of any All-America team. The 1954 team, led by Frank Selvy of Furman with a 42.5 mark, averaged 29.8.

The team not only reflects balance in court positions, but also exhibits equal geographical distribution, with five different areas of the nation represented. Russell and Goodrich are used as guards, Hetzel plays center, and Bradley and Barry function as forwards, as did Estes.

Heads Second Team

Dave Stallworth of Wichita, a first team member last season but who was eligible to play only one semester, this season, led a second team, followed closely by Clyde Lee of Vanderbilt.

Completing the second team are Bill Buntin of Michigan, Billy Cunningham of North Carolina and Dave Schellhase of Purdue. Lee, Schellhase and Russell are the only juniors named to the first three teams. The rest are seniors.

Wildlife Board Shouldn't Be Used As Whipping Boy

By EDWIN S. CAPPS

SACRAMENTO (CNS)—Legislative Analyst A. Alan Post and his team of financial experts are to be commended for their recent report to the legislature, recommending ways in which the state can save money.

But we must part company with Post in his annual attempt to drag out the wildlife conservation board as a legislative whipping boy.

As he has before, Post recommends discontinuance of the $750,000 annual appropriation to the WCB which is used for a number of worthwhile projects throughout the state. In addition, Post recommends denial of the WCB's operating budget of $89,601 for 1965-66.

This year, Post has some new reasons for making the same old recommendation and we don't happen to agree with them. He points out that $5 million of the $150 million beach and park bond issue was earmarked for wildlife conservation board projects and should be used for the annual appropriation to the WCB and for financing its staff operations.

Not being a lawyer, we don't know if such an action would be legal—the people voted for the bonds to provide money for the projects, not for operations. But legal or not, it certainly would be breaking faith with the voters.

It would be akin to asking the legislature to forget about buying new beach and park lands or developing them with the balance of the $150 million in bonds, but to use this money for operation of the division of beaches and parks for as long as it lasts.

Post, as an accountant of the highest caliber, is not alone in his dislike of special or earmarked funds. Most students of government feel revenues all should go into the same pot, with the agencies that collect them forced to justify their expenditures on the basis of need, rather than how much money they collect.

As a student of hunting and fishing, however, we think the special case for hunting and fishing license revenues is well justified. These revenues go into the fish and game preservation fund and represent the only money the department of fish and game, and commission, may spend for their activities.

In addition, the department carries on a big job of conservation for all the people, sportsmen or not, makes studies of affects of water projects on fish and wildlife, and provides thousands of free hunting and fishing licenses to less fortunates.

We haven't heard any proposals that the driver's license fee should be increased so as to permit issuance of free driver's licenses to low-income senior citizens. But, in effect, this is what the hunting and fishing license buyers have been doing for years.

When the state legislature wishes to begin paying for millions of dollars in services performed each year by the department for all of the people in California, not just license buyers, then it may be time to consider doing away with the special funds, such as the F&G preservation fund, but not before.

Meanwhile, the $750,000 annual appropriation to the WCB, from horse race money, is the one source of funds other than licenses. And WCB projects benefit boaters, picnickers, hikers, campers and many other persons who never have purchased a fishing or hunting license.

As long as the people voted the $5 million in bonds for WCB projects, they should be used for that very purpose, and not siphoned off for other uses in the interests of economy.

Cincinnati's Ed Jucker Announces Retirement

CINCINNATI (PI) — Ed Jucker, who guided the University of Cincinnati to two consecutive NCAA championships, tonight sends the basketball Bearcats against St. Louis here in one of three games left in his coaching career.

Jucker, 47, will step down at the season's end for reasons of health, to be succeeded by assistant Coach Tay Baker. He will remain at the university in a teaching post.

Jucker's resignation was submitted to the university board of directors Dec. 14 but was not made public until yesterday.

He was United Press International coach of the year in 1963 and had guided the Bearcats to three consecutive Missouri Valley Conference titles before the 1963-64 season. They currently are 3-9 this season in MVC action.

In 1960-61 he led Cincinnati to the NCAA championship, upsetting Ohio State in the title game, and repeated the feat in 1961-62, again over Ohio State.

A bid for an unprecedented third consecutive national title was thwarted in 1962-63 when Loyola of Chicago beat the Bearcats 60-58 in overtime in the championship game.

Jucker's teams reeled off 37 consecutive victories in the 1961-62 and 1962-63 seasons.

Start The Chinese New Year With Two Flavorful Surprises

Mid-winter meal slump? Turn a culinary trick, keep in step with the times and serve a Chinese dinner in honor of the New Year festivities!

FRIED RICE WITH BEEF AND PEPPERS

1 pkg. Fried Rice Mix
4 cups water
1 pound filet steak
2 tbsp. oil
2 onions, sliced
1 green pepper, cut in strips
Marinade—Mix together
1 tbsp. soy sauce
½ tsp. sugar
2 tbsp. cornstarch
2 tbsp. cold water

While rice is cooking, cut meat into small pieces. Place in marinating mixture and let stand for 10 minutes.

Heat a pan with 2 tbsp. oil and when it is very hot, add meat; saute for 2 minutes. Remove and set aside. Saute onions 'til they become brown, add green pepper and stir one minute or 'til it turns bright green. Remove vegetables and set aside.

WATERCRESS SOUP

½ pound lean beef
1 tbsp. soy sauce
1 tsp. salt
1 pkg. Egg Drop Soup Mix
4 cups cold water
¼ tsp. sesame seed oil

Wash watercress thoroughly and discard hard stems. Dice lean beef fine and mix well in bowl with soy sauce, oil and salt. Allow to stand for 30 minutes. Add 1 packet soup mix to water, bring to boil and add watercress. Stir well and when it comes to boil again, add drop of sesame seed oil and meat. Bring to boil again; stir thoroughly. Serve very hot.

Sumptuous Spanish Fish Recipe

From Spain, famous for the excellent quality of its seafood, come many delectable fish dishes, suitable for company dinners during Lent or on any fast day.

STUFFED SEA BASS, SPANISH STYLE

5 to 6 pound sea bass
6 tablespoons Spanish olive oil
¼ pound fresh mushrooms, minced
¼ cup minced onion
2 tablespoons minced celery
½ cup white breadcrumbs, crumbled fine
¼ teaspoon salt
Dash of nutmeg
1 egg, beaten
1 cup white wine

Have fishman remove backbone from whole fish without spoiling shape. In skillet, lightly saute the shrimp, mushrooms, onion and celery in 3 tablespoons of the olive oil until lightly browned. Add bread, salt, nutmeg; remove from fire, stir in 1 tablespoon of the wine, then the egg. Stuff mixture inside fish, close up with skewers. Place in oiled baking dish; brush remaining olive oil and remaining wine over top. Cut several diagonal slits in fish along the top; insert a thin lemon slice in each. Bake at 350° until fish is firm, about 50 to 60 minutes. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

STUFFED FILLETS OF SOLE. Use six fillets of sole. Make stuffing as above, divide in six parts; place one part on each fillet, roll up, fasten with toothpick or small skewer and place in large square of aluminum foil. Brush olive oil and wine over top of each, then place on each a thin slice of lemon and fold over the foil; bake in 350° oven for 35 to 40 minutes. Serve in the foil, with edges folded back. Serves 6.

WHOLE SEA bass filled with a delectable stuffing of shrimp and mushrooms, its skin golden-crisp with Spanish olive oil, makes an elegant Lenten dish. Tiny whole potatoes and sauteed zucchini complete the menu along with a tossed green salad.

New Chocolate Loaf Cake Is Good Plain Or Frosted

If you are wondering how new "no-melt" chocolate works out in a basic cake, we report "just fine!"

We tried it in the following recipe for two loaves of chocolate cake, so convenient to have on hand. We served one loaf shortly after baking and stored the other in the refrigerator where it seemed to benefit from the hold-over.

The recipe calls for buttermilk, but if there is none in the house, you may make a substitute. To do so, just pour 1 tablespoon of cider vinegar into a 1-pint measure; add enough milk to make 1 cup; stir and let the combination stand in a warm place for a few minutes before using.

NEW CHOCOLATE LOAF CAKE

2 ½ cups sifted cake flour
1 teaspoon baking soda
1 teaspoon salt
1 cup butter or margarine
2 cups sugar
2 teaspoons vanilla
5 eggs
3 envelopes (each 1 ounce) unsweetened chocolate product
1 cup buttermilk
1 cup finely chopped walnuts, if desired

Sift together the flour, baking soda and salt. Beat together the butter, sugar and vanilla until the consistency of mayonnaise; add eggs one at a time, beating thoroughly after each addition. Add unsweetened chocolate product; beat to blend. Add sifted dry ingredients in 4 additions, alternately with buttermilk, beating until smooth after each addition. Fold in walnuts if used. Pour into 2 ungreased loaf pans (each 9 by 5 by 3 inches) whose bottoms have been lined with wax paper. Bake in a moderate (350 degrees) oven for 1 hour or until a wire cake tester inserted in the center comes out clean. Turn out on wire rack; remove paper; turn right side up; cool.

Pears, Ham Loaf Good Combination

When you come upon a recipe that suits you, hang onto it and vary it as you please. That's how interesting variations of basic recipes are born.

This is a fine loaf to prepare when you have enough leftover baked ham to give two cups ground. The pound of ground uncooked veal that is needed can be ordered when you are ready to make the loaf.

Corn flake crumbs also go into the recipe. You may use the kind that come packaged, if they are on hand. Or just crush a cup of corn flakes to make the quarter-cup of crumbs needed. Take the corn flakes from a big package or use a breakfast-serving size (1 ounce) package holding about a cup.

HAM LOAF WITH PEARS

2 cups finely ground cooked ham, packed down
1 pound ground uncooked veal
¼ cup fine corn flake crumbs
2 eggs
1 small onion, peeled and finely grated (pulp and juice.)
2 tablespoons minced celery leaves
¾ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
¼ teaspoon poultry seasoning
1 can (1 pound and 13 ounces) Bartlett pear halves
Currant jelly and parsley sprigs

Mix together thoroughly the ham, veal, corn flake crumbs, eggs, onion, celery leaves, salt, pepper, poultry seasoning and ½ cup of the pear syrup. Pack mixture into a greased loaf pan (9 by 5 by 3 inches). Bake in a moderate (375 degrees) oven for 1 hour. About 10 minutes before loaf is done, arrange drained pears in a pie plate or on turned-up heavy foil and place in the oven heat. Remove ham loaf from oven; allow to stand 5 minutes; turn out on serving platter. Arrange pear halves around loaf; fill cavities with currant jelly; tuck parsely sprigs around pears. Makes 8 servings. (AP)

Molyneux Decries Flirtation With Fashion

By GAY PAULEY

NEW YORK (UPI) — Capt. Edward Molyneux says that fashion's current flirtation with clothes that expose are neither for Molyneux nor for elegant women.

"It's madness," he said of the topless bathing suit.

"Insane," he said of skirt lengths high above the knees. "Not for any girl over 21."

Molyneux, one of fashion's all-time greats, said the well-dressed woman will quietly ignore clothes that are excessively bare. So will he, he added—"you won't see Molyneux doing the naked look."

The British-born designer now is 70 years old, but looks younger with his lean body and sandy, ungraying hair. He's blind in the left eye, a result of wounds suffered while serving with the British army in World War I.

HE TALKED of fashion, of his paintings, of his flower farm, of his return to Paris couture after a 15-year retirement, of the greats in the current crop of designers, and what to him elegance means.

He came to New York for the formal opening of an exhibition of 60 of his paintings—seascapes, landscapes and still lifes—at the Hammer Galleries. Then it was on to Montego Bay, Jamaica, he said, and back to Paris by March.

"I LOVE designing and painting equally," said Molyneux. "I paint only in the morning because of my sight. I had to have operation after operation for nine months. I'm still filled with bits of shrapnel, but otherwise my health is good."

Molyneux re-opened his Paris design salon last month for the first time since 1950 at the same address, No. 5 Rue Royale, where he first set up shop in 1919. The new collection carried the Molyneux trademarks—soft and simple clothes, many of bias cut, in quiet colors. He was famous for his grays and invariably wears gray suits himself.

"I GOT bored," said Molyneux of reason for his return to Paris. "I'm not social. I won't play card games. I don't like cocktail parties."

A group of businessmen had made it "very easy for me" to re-enter the world of high fashion, he said, but "I don't know whether I'll do spring, fall, spring, fall" collections.

He sees France still as the "mainspring" of fashion, despite the growing competition from America.

"France is France," said Molyneux. "Everyone gets excited (about collections). No one gets tired of it all."

HE CALLED Mark Bohan, chief designer for Christian Dior, and Balenciaga the two greatest designers of the current Parisian crop; Mainbocher he put at the top in the United States. "He is sane," said Molyneux of Mainbocher. "Valentina is a great designer, but she retired."

Among the women he'd class as "true elegants" were Lynne Fontanne, a long-time friend as well as customer, Gloria Guinness, and the Duchess of Windsor. Elegance he defined as a "round quality," not something confined to clothes. "It is of the mind," he said, "a point of view. . .a knowledge to do the right thing, say the right thing.

"IT'S EASIER," he added, with money."

The Midas touch always has been Molyneux's. His paintings sell for as much as $2,500 each. His collection of impressionistic art brought him more than $1 million when he sold it in the 1950s. He bought, and has profited, on real estate in jamaica, France and New York.

HE LOVES his carnation farm at Biot in the south of France, near the perfume center of Grasse.

But he also conducts it as a thriving business, selling the carnations to the Nice flower market and the blossoms of the lavender borders to be turned into perfume essence.

A TWEED checkered wool shapes this tailored suit from the new spring collection by Biki of Milan. The bright, but subdued, shades of grey, cherry and yellow, offset the slenderness of the double-breasted jacket and skirt. Completing the ensemble is a bright yellow straw hat and a scarf-collared blouse.

List Of Gimmicks Aid In Sleeping

CHICAGO (UPI) — There seems to be no end of gimmicks to help people fall asleep, a survey by the Sleep Institute of Chicago shows.

For noise, there are ear plugs, acoustical ear muffs and even an electrical device that emits a steady hum to drown out the other sounds. For snoring, there's an elastic band the snorer can wear to keep his or her mouth shut. There's also a snore ball worn on the back of the pajamas to discourage sleeping on the back, believed to be one cause of snoring.

The expectant mother must have written permission from her physician in order to enroll in the series.

Pink Silk Craze

Every New York manufacturer must have bought a supply of four-ply pink silk crepe. The pink, sometimes muted, sometimes sharp, showed through a number of spring collections.

Mardi Gras Candidates To Be Feted

Mrs. Philip West and Miss Melinda McGrane, the two Marin County candidates for Queen of the 1965 Mardi Gras Ball, will be entertained at lunch tomorrow by Mrs. Elliot Hayne, a member of the Mardi Gras Ball committee of the Little Jim Club of Children's Hospital, at her home in San Rafael.

Mrs. West and Miss McGrane, along with eight other contestants are vying for the title of Queen which is awarded to the candidate who has sold the most votes by March 2, the night the costume party is held.

Both Mrs. West and Miss McGrane opened their campaigns by sending letters to their friends explaining the contest and asking for support. An additional method of fund raising for Miss McGrane was a cookie sale held at the secretarial school that she attends. Mrs. West has a committee of eight friends helping her organize her campaign. They have issued invitations to a benefit auction of paintings and amusing art objects to be held Friday at Mrs. Ralph K. Davies' firehouse in San Francisco.

Brotherhood Week Has New Meaning In Marin

National Brotherhood Week (Feb. 21-28) is no longer just a euphonious slogan to be trotted out once a year and mothballed for the next 12 months.

This year as never before, Brotherhood strikes close to home. What may have been a vague and abstract term in the past begins to take tangible shape in the form of meaningful activity that involves Marin and its residents.

The campaign for brotherhood in the South, spurred by the 1964 Civil Rights Bill, is no longer a far-off problem that you read about in the papers and magazines.

Many Marin residents have traveled to the Deep South to come back with first-hand reports of what they saw and experienced. We are being exposed to some of the problems that arise when one group of American citizens feels it is not being accorded the same privileges enjoyed by others.

In California, laws on fair housing suffered a setback with the passage of Proposition 14, and the controvery still rages. However, in actual practice, brotherhood is being advanced by various organizations, including the real estate groups which are now pushing for a voluntary code of non-discrimination in housing.

President Johnson's concern with the importance of the week is apparent in his proclamation calling for its observance.

"Strong differences among our people have made our land dynamic," he said. "But when disagreement corrodes into discrimination, then the very diversity which has been a hallmark of our nation's success weakens its fabric of freedom and democracy.

"I urge all Americans now to work toward a society that will respect differences of ethnic background, race and religion as well as encouraging an equal opportunity for every citizen."

Every decent citizen is, by nature, conscious of the need to "do unto others as you would have others do unto you." But it is in the application of that creed that we tend to fall down.

Brotherhood Week is an appropriate time to review our shortcomings.

We should judge our neighbors as individuals, good or bad, rather than castigate an entire group for the weaknesses of a few.

Some opponents of civil rights legislation maintained that civil rights should be a matter of the heart.

With the heart and the mind working together, prejudices that exist toward the Negro, the foreign born, the Jews and other minority groups should be eliminated so that our national unity will not be threatened by divisive hate and bigotry.

Smoke In The Valley

Now that spring has come to our little valley, everyone seems to be pruning and trimming roses, fuchsias, everything that needs it. And billows of smoke from their burning fill the morning sky with tall, white pillars which soon diffuse into a smoky haze.

The acrid-sweet aroma of the burning prunings fills the nostrils with its heady, seasonal scent. The limbs and twigs are damp and make more smoke than flame.

February is a favorite month of some Marinites. They love the clear, warm days; the acacias and the accompanying promise of spring; the sight and smell of the smoke from a hundred fires. It is the natural incense of the vernal season.

AFFAIRS OF STATE

California Faced With Growing Burden Of Welfare Expenditures

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — Just what Californians are up against in the next few years as far as social welfare is concerned is presented with clarity in the 1965-66 budget analysis submitted by Legislative Analyst A. Alan Post and his staff.

THE REPORT points out that the State Department of Social Welfare proposes to spend $1,165,850,338 during the forthcoming fiscal year. This is approximately 25 per cent of Gov. Edmund G. Brown's four - billion - plus proposed budget. Half of the proposed expenditures for social welfare will come from the federal government, but, in any event, all of it will be paid out of tax money.

The report shows the proposal for expenditure is an increase of $157,129,468 over the current fiscal year. This is an increase of 15.6 per cent.

"This is approximately 10 and one-half times the comparable cost of welfare in 1945-46," the report says.

"WHEN IT is adjusted for the price and population changes which occurred in the past 20 years, it is apparent that the 1965-66 welfare obligation of every California citizen is approximately three times what it was in 1945-46.

"It is equally apparent, in view of the steadily increasing estimates of cases and costs which are incorporated into this budget, that the tremendously increased investment of concern and money in the welfare program over the past 20 years has not provided even partial solutions to the problems of hardship and dependency."

IT FOLLOWS, then, that California is expending over a billion dollars on a problem which isn't even close to being solved. It has, in fact, grown to the extent that the Department of Social Welfare estimates that approximately 1,200,000 persons will receive money or services under the department program of direct support and of a community service nature.

"This," says the Post report, "is 6.3 per cent of the total estimated civilian population on June 30, 1966, or approximately one out of every 16 persons."

IN OTHER WORDS, 16 producers of goods and services in the state are required to join together to support one welfare recipient. This probably is cut in half, for when total population is used as a basis for computation, allowance must be made for young people and housewives who are not engaged in the production and service field. So actually, eight workers are supporting someone on welfare.

Estimates have been made that there is one government employee for every six productive individuals in the state. Roughly then, three persons are supporting one individual who either is being taken care of with welfare money or drawing some kind of government salary.

IN VIEW OF the fact that the case-load of welfare recipients does not increase as fast as the welfare cost, at least in the case of old-age assistance, it seems probable that studies could evolve some method of stabilizing costs rather than cause them to increase over 15 per cent in a year's time. But such studies will not be made as long as a liberal administration insists on giving away taxpayer money.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Conservation Not Extreme

Editor, Independent-Journal:

"Extremism" is a term likely to be over-used, these days. A recent editorial in the Independent-Journal for Feb. 12 uses the term as if extremism were inherent in the principles of conservation—certainly a most astonishing premise. For example, the editorial says: "If the conservationists were to get the upper hand, the state wouldn't have a freeway left in its highway system." Might we not call this extravagant exaggeration itself "extreme"?

The fact is that sound conservation principles are beginning at last to be pretty generally recognized as good common-sense and foresight. This understanding was beginning to express itself with force even before President Johnson (certainly not an unpractical man) made his recent plea to preserve more diligently the treasures of nature and to give higher priority to beauty. With this official leadership, we believe the day may be at hand when actually the conservationists may "get the upper hand." We have no desire to destroy nor even to impede the sound development of the state's excellent freeway system. We can not believe that it would be destroyed or even impeded if Park Commission approval were to be required before freeways were routed through state parks.

For this is the crux of the issue raised in your editorial. The question is before us, this year: Is it right that the State Highway Commission's decisions can override, without chance of appeal, the decisions of the State Park Commission regarding routing of freeways through state parks? Is it reasonable that the Park Commission should be charged, under state law, with the responsibility of "protection of the State Park System" and at the same time be denied the power to protect it? Does a direct-aligned freeway represent the best and highest good of the human race—so clearly above all other human considerations that direct-alignment alone must prevail? . . .

Governor Brown's quoted statement regarding his confidence in the State Highway Commission has been used in ways which he himself must deplore. Praise for our highway officials' acknowledged integrity and efficiency comes properly from the Governor. We recall, however, that in no uncertain terms he himself has expressed determination that park values must be maintained. Certainly it seems unlikely that he means to advocate a conservation policy lower in its intention than that which has just been advocated by the Administration in Washington, or of the administration just preceding the present one.

The late President Kennedy's words come back to us as a prescient warning: "Our economic standard of living rises, but our environmental standard of living—our access to nature and our respect for it—deteriorates. . . . The long-run effect will be not only to degrade the quality of the national life but to weaken the foundations of national power."

Moderates Claimed In Need Of Critics

Editor, Independent-Journal:

The moderate political center, in this country the "establishment," is fat and self-satisfied and is in great need of articulate and reasoned criticism to keep it alive and reasonable. Where is this criticism to come from?

The far left believes that mankind can come into its birthright as gods on earth, if only relieved of sundry oppressions imposed from the outside. Unfortunately, history has shown that when the oppressors are driven out, ornery man remains and police terror must be imposed to avoid contamination to the earthly millenium. This is why the secret police will always be on tap in the Soviet Union.

How about the far right? These individuals usually see themselves as steely - eyed heroes alone or with a few trusted lieutenants against the great grey common herd. His world-view is paranoid and his theory of history is conspiratorial. He finds plotters against him under every bed and requires police terror to suppress these traitors.

This leaves only other moderates who happen to be out of power. . . . They want the seats of power. And what is wrong with that? It is the way this country has managed its affairs for almost 200 years and it seems to have worked quite well so far. The alternative is police terror of one extreme or the other.

Don't Want It? Just Vote 'No'

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Replying to Mrs. Farkas' plea to attend Unification Committee meetings:

Some years ago, when the County Committee for School Unification was first holding a series of so-called open meetings, my husband and I attended one.

One was enough!

The chairman let it be known in no uncertain terms that she (and presumably the rest of the committee) wasn't interested in public opinion or in answering questions.

The impression we received was that the committee was going to recommend the single unified district for the Tamalpais Union High School area . . . and the public be damned.

Nothing has since occurred to change this impression. . . .

The only way the public can make itself felt in cases like this is to vote its conviction that such a large district will result in even worse schooling than is now available (as witness the product of San Francisco's unified district), at more cost because of the inevitable proliferation of administrators.

If old Mr. and Mrs. John Q. Public will have the guts to stand by its conviction that our children will suffer under one huge district, and ignore the state's bribery offers, we can win this battle. It will take time and perseverance, but surely our children are worth it. Remember, just vote no to anything you don't want.

TRY AND STOP ME

BENNETT CERF

HERE'S A TALE told about Calvin Coolidge. A fledgling in the political arena had made an after - dinner speech at which Coolidge was the guest of honor, and, of course, was desperately anxious to hear whether or not he had made a good impression. "You were pretty good," Calvin told him quietly, "but you didn't quite make the most of your opportunities." "My opportunities?" wondered the young man. "Yes," nodded Coolidge. "You had several chances to sit down before you did."

OLD JEB HAWKINS, of Kaintucky, proudly pointed to a musket on the wall near his fireplace and told a couple of foreigners from New Jersey, "Yes siree, that gun has killed me enough game—rabbits, possums, quail, deer, and such-like—to feed my family good for the past twenty years. And what's more—it's got me two pretty good sons-in-law, too."

LATE SPEAKER of the House Sam Rayburn ("Mr. Sam" to countless Texas admirers) always defined archaic, moronic party conventions as "a lot of people mulling around asking one another what was happening." Of course, that was before the marvels of 1964 television made the whole procedure more ludicrous and outworn than ever.

ROSCOE DRUMMOND

Presidential Move Doesn't Mean Rusk Likely To Leave

WASHINGTON — The question isn' whether Dean Rusk is secure in his job as secretary of state. He is. But rather how this speculation that Rusk was on the way out could have gathered such force as to make the guessing look more real than reality itself.

How, the speculators asked, could there be any other interpretation than that Rusk's days were numbered, in view of the fact that:

HE WAS SICK at the wrong time.

President Lyndon B. Johnson did not call him back to Washington for the crucial Security Council meetings on Viet Nam.

While he was resting in Florida, Thomas C. Mann was appointed undersecretary of state for economic affairs. The fateful clue here was that Mr. Mann happened to be born in Texas and obviously, the speculators figured, the White House must be planting him in the State Department to take over Rusk's job. Why else, since his father and mother had him born in the president's home state?

There it was—all laid out. The only thing that remained was how soon it would happen.

It never was going to happen and won't as far as anyone can see ahead. It all looked pretty plausible for a time, because speculation came faster than the facts could catch up. The facts are:

MR. RUSK HAS not had a single day of respite from his heavy burdens since he took over four years ago last month. He had been working without let-up six and seven days a week for 213 weeks and when he came down with a severe cold he was bone weary and on the brink of physical exhaustion. He had to break away for some rest.

President Johnson did not summon him back to Washington because he knew that an unbroken period of recuperation was critically imperative. He simply chose to be without his direct counsel for a few extra days rather than risk his health further and perhaps lose his counsel for months to come.

The promotion of Thomas Mann from assistant secretary for Latin America affairs and coordinator of the Alliance for Progress to undersecretary of state for economic affairs was designed to strengthen the top team at State, not to alter it. Mann will free Undersecretary George W. Ball for other duties in the political field—now that Averell Harriman has become a roving ambassador. If there is any evidence that either Ball or Rusk are on the way out of the administration, President Johnson doesn't know about it. Mann's ancestral ties to Texas had nothing to do with his appointment. Mr. Johnson came to know him only in recent years, forming a high opinion of his abilities. Rusk was eager to have him brought into the department.

RUSK DOES NOT have to worry about his relations with the president. They couldn't be better.

Their trusted relationship did not begin on the day Mr. Johnson took over after the tragedy in Dallas. It goes much farther back. When Johnson was vice president, Rusk kept him fully briefed, not only prior to the trips he made abroad for President John F. Kennedy but on all developing policy. Kennedy didn't even know Rusk personally when he named him secretary of state. Johnson and Rusk were close long before November, 1963.

This is why Rusk was not disturbed by all the speculation that he was being shouldered out. He knew he wasn't and he did not need any word from the White House to assure him.

He did learn, of course, that, when the president dropped in unannounced at the department's recent diplomatic reception, he told the foreign diplomatic corps that his feeling toward Secretary Rusk was one of unlimited "respect and affection."

It's mutual. While Rusk is not one to pound the table, he has full access to the president's ear—and his mind.

Cuba Blockade Now Almost Non-Existent

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — U.S. air surveillance of Communist-ruled Cuba is now down to almost the vanishing point.

Only one high-level reconnaissance flight is so far scheduled for this month. Whether it actually comes off remains to be seen. In January there were only two such U-2 plane overflights. And throughout all of 1964, these vital intelligence missions averaged less than three a month.

FOR MORE THAN a year, there have been no low-level reconnaissance flights at all — despite a marked increase in the number of Soviet bloc ships arriving at Cuban ports, and intensified Castro - instigated and supported subversion and guerrilla operations in Colombia, Venezuela and other Latin American countries.

For many months following the 1962 missile crisis, several or more high and low - level reconnaissance flights were made over Cuban weekly. At times, there were as many as 12 a month.

SIGNIFICANTLY, U-2 planes formerly used for Cuban overflights have been shifted to South Viet Nam for reconnaissance missions over North Viet Nam, Laos, Cambodia and Southern China.

The Central Intelligence Agency estimates that since the 1962 missile crisis, more than 5,000 Communist bloc vessels, carrying a wide range of freight and passengers, have docked in Cuba. In addition, there have been a steadily increasing number of Western cargo ships engaged in this trade.

IN PRACTICAL effect, it's a sham. There is no real blockade.

And that isn't all. Due to the drastic curtailment of high and low - level reconnaissance flights, the CIA is now able to obtain scant "hard" information on just what the Reds are pouring into their Caribbean satellite.

A concrete example of this serious intelligence weakness was the sudden appearance of new Russian ground-to-ground missiles in a Havana parade last month. U.S. authorities are still mystified as to how and when these powerful missiles arrived in Cuba.

The Joint Chiefs of Staff have vigorously protested the virtual abandonment of reconnaissance flights over Cuba. They have repeatedly urged a stepping up of these important missions.

But they have been overruled by newly-named Undersecretary of State Thomas C. Mann, close friend of the president and his principal Latin American adviser.

Mann has contended that increased aerial reconnaissance might lead to an incident that would embroil the U.S. and Russia in another dangerous confrontation. Similarly, Mann has insisted on tough enforcement of the ban against anti-Castro activities by Cuban refugees in the U.S.

On both stands Mann has the full backing of the president.

The Country Parson

"It's too bad that so many activities which harm us do it so pleasantly."

Science has done much to increase the longevity of the young, but hasn't really added much to the life span of those in their elder years. Around 1900 a man of 80 could look forward to living 5.10 more years on the average; the figure for an 80-year-old man today has risen only to 5.90.

Washington In-Group Says Bombs Just Way To Talk With Peking

WASHINGTON — The best thing about living in Washington is you know exactly what is going on in the world. While the rest of the country may be in an utter state of confusion, those of us who are so close to the seat of power have a clear picture of what is up.

EVEN SOMETHING as simple as the bombing of North Nonomura is not hard to understand if you keep your ears open and listen to everything that is being said.

I did just this at a cocktail party the other night and this is what I heard:

"The reason we bombed North Nonomura was so that we could negotiate from a position of strength, if we ever reach the negotiating stage, which is, of course, impossible."

"I disagree with you. We bombed North Nonomura to bolster the South Nonomuran government, and to help the morale of their troops who keep getting clobbered every day."

"YOU'RE BOTH wrong. We are engaged in a tit-for-tat war and we are determined to show the Nyet Clong they can't fool around with us."

"Balderdash. The tit-for-tat policy was just a cover for our real purpose, which is to warn the Chinese that we mean business in southeast Asia. Since we have no relations with them, we must carry out the dialogue through bombing raids."

"Does this mean we're escalating the war?"

"We're not against escalating. We're against over-escalation. It was our desire to keep the war limited, but the North Nonomurans wouldn't let us. They've stepped up the war, so naturally we've had to step it up, too."

"How does one fight a limited war without over-escalation?"

"BY HELPING one side, on the condition that the other side receives no help. As soon as the other side gets aid, then you have to step up your effort. Up until recently the Nyet Clong were getting all their arms from American stockpiles which they had captured from the South Nonomuran soldiers. As soon as they started getting arms from North Nonomura, the war was no longer localized, and we had no choice."

"IF WE AGREED to give the Nyet Clong American arms, could we limit the war to South Nonomura again?"

"No, because if we did that, the South Nonomuran government would become furious with us."

"What South Nonomuran government?"

"The one they just put in the other day."

"Where does American policy fit into all this?"

"IT'S QUITE simple. We can't get out of South Nonomura because of the domino theory. We can't win the war there without a stable government. We can't have a stable government until we start winning the war. Therefore, the only solution is to knock the hell out of North Nonomura."

"What about negotiation?"

"We can't negotiate because we are losing the war."

"Could we negotiate if we were winning the war?"

"Why would we want to negotiate if we were winning the war?"

"It's pretty clear to me, but do the American people know all this?"

"WE CAN'T tell them."

"Why not?"

"Because if we told them, we would also be telling the Russians and Chinese what we had up our sleeves. We have to keep them guessing what we'll do next."

"But that means keeping the American people guessing, too."

Tiburon Firemen Taking Classes

Tiburon firemen must be among the most scholarly firefighters in Marin.

Fire Chief Frank J. Buscher is attending a semester-long course, one night a week, at Santa Rosa Junior College, studying state fire laws regarding public buildings.

Engineer Robert Wallerman and Firemen John Grbac and Thomas Murphy are attending a one-semester course at College of Marin, once a week, studying fire prevention methods.

Fourteen of the district's 29 volunteer firemen have been awarded certificates from the State Department of Education for attending at least 12 of 15 classes in a recent series on use of firefighting equipment.

REMEMBER WHEN?

10 YEARS AGO

Sausalito Mayor Alan Scurfield called for a congressional investigation of the contract between Hal B. Hayes and the Marin Housing Authority for redevelopment of Marin City.

Marin County Board of Supervisors passed emergency legislation setting up a county department of public works and named county roads commissioner Marvin W. Brigham director of the new department.

John Blayney came to San Rafael as the city's new planning director at a salary of $425 a month.

Keeping dogs from biting pupils on the grounds of Ross School has become a real problem, principal Stephen Parodi reported.

A $300,000 suit charging breach of partnership against Mr. and Mrs. Ernest N. Kettenhofen of Bolinas was dismissed in Contra Costa County Superior Court.

20 YEARS AGO

Alto district was hailed as "virtually a new Marin city" as growth to nearly 200 homes, additional to hundreds of trailers, was revealed.

A county planners' architectural sketch of a proposed county airport at Greenbrae was published. Its runway was to extend from the bay shore to the rail line to Tiburon, with a yacht harbor and industrial area adjacent.

William E. Waste was elected president of the Marin County Council of Boy Scouts, succeeding Kenneth K. Bechtel.

Housewives found that Marin markets had exhausted stocks of non-rationed meat and, in general, of most rationed products. Excessive buying by persons fearing a shortage was blamed.

An Expert At Kibitzing Wastes No Sympathy

An inexperience kitbitzer will sometimes agree with you that your luck is unbeilevably bad.

An expert kibitzer, the kind of man we are honoring in National Kibitzer's Week, will dry your eyes but will show you your mistake.

What do you say?

Answer: Bid two clubs.

You have enough strength for a response, and this raise best describes your hand. Some experts would respond one heart, but such a bid in the average game is a passport to disaster.

West led the queen of diamonds to South's king. Declarer drew two rounds of trumps and led a club, losing dummy's jack to the king.

SOUTH RUFFS

East returned a diamond to the ace, and South tried another club, losing the queen to the ace. The defenders took their diamond trick and then made South ruff a club.

Now South had to guess who had the queen of hearts. He led out his two remaining trumps, forcing the opponents to discard. Since South watched the discards closely he knew that East had started with four hearts, and West with only three hearts.

This made the odds 4 to 3 that East had the queen of hearts. South led a heart to dummy's king and returned a heart for a finesse. West took the setting trick with the queen of hearts.

SAD COMPLAINT

"How can one man be so unlucky?" South demanded. "My play would work if either club honor were at my left or if the queen of hearts were where it should be. The odds were better than 8 to 1 in my favor."

"It is very unlucky to be such a palooka," the kibitzer told South sympathetically. "If you were a bridge player you would have made this contract."

After drawing two rounds of trumps, South should cash the ace of diamonds and give up a diamond.

LEADS CLUB

West wins and leads a club. East can win the first club trick, but then any return gives declarer the contract.

A club sets up a club for the dummy; a heart gives declarer a free finesse; and if East could lead a diamond, dummy would ruff while South discarded a heart.

DAILY QUESTION

Partner opens with one club, and the next player passes.

SEATTLE (UPI) -- Turbo-Starter compressors made by the Boeing Co. have started more than 2 million jetliner engines, the firm announced.

ALMANAC

Today is Wednesday, Feb. 24, the 55th day of 1965 with 310 to follow.

The moon is approaching its new phase. The morning star is Mars. The evening stars are Mars and Jupiter.

Admiral Chester Nimitz was born on this day in 1885.

On this day in history:

In 1803, Chief Justice John Marshall ruled the U.S. Supreme Court had the power to declare invalid any act of Congress which, in the tribunal's opinion, was unconstitutional.

In 1868, impeachment proceedings began against President Andrew Johnson in the U.S. House of Representatives because he fired War Secretary Edwin Stanton. He was acquitted by one vote.

In 1945, American troops liberated Manila, capital of the Philippines, from Japanese occupation and control.

A Thought for the Day — Irish author George Bernard Shaw once said: "You don't learn to hold your own in the world by standing on guard, but by attacking."

TIME AND TIDE

Department of Commerce, United States Coast Geodetic Survey, Western District headquarters. Times and heights of tides at San Francisco (Golden Gate):

The column of heights gives the elevation in feet of each tide above or below the plane of Coast Survey chart soundings. The depths are always additive to the chart depths unless preceded by a minus sign (-), when the numbers are subtracted from the depth given in the chart. Light-face type indicates a.m. times; bold-face type indicates p.m. times.

When a Family Buys A Home in Central Marin . . . Where Do They Come From?

Latest Research* shows that 69.7% of home buyers in Central Marin are ALREADY LIVING in the County.

This is a ratio of MORE THAN 3½ to 1 than from San Francisco.

BUYER ORIGIN	%
Marin County	69.7
San Francisco	19.6

- The Prime Market then, for home sales, is Marin itself . . . and the I-J Classified "gets home" to the people who buy the MOST HOMES in Marin . . . Marin families themselves because the I-J covers 2 out of 3 homes in the County.
- The I-J daily circulation in Marin County is GREATER than that of the San Francisco Chronicle and the Examiner COMBINED!!
- NO WASTE — NO HIGH-PRICED SPACE GOING TO NON-PRODUCTIVE AREAS.

Judge Says No Tickets 'Fixed' In Marin County Traffic Courts

By JEFF GREER

"Ticket fixing" may scuttle traffic safety efforts in some communities but not in Marin County, Municipal Court Judge Leonard A. Thomas declared flatly yesterday.

"No tickets are 'fixed' here," he declared.

Judge Thomas sits in the traffic courtroom of the Municipal Court in San Rafael; he handles citations issued by 13 law enforcement agencies throughout the county.

Judge Thomas's declaration was a reply to a speech Monday at opening of a five-day regional traffic court conference in San Francisco. There, James P. Economos, directors of the American Bar Assn. traffic court program, warned that "a judge sitting in a traffic court can make or break his community's traffic accident prevention program."

"Let it be known that there is no back door, no golden ruling, no cases heard in chambers, no fix," Economos urged.

Marin Municipal Court records for January, furnished by Clerk Edna L. Lemke, showed that Marin County police, California Highway Patrol and sheriff's deputies issued a total of 4,546 citations for illegal parking and 1,723 for moving violations, improper equipment, lack of driver's license in possession of the driver, and similar offenses.

Of these, the records indicated that 133 parking tickets were dismissed without trial; of the other traffic violations cited, 96 tickets were dismissed.

Of 192 cases that actually went all the way to court, only one parking ticket was dismissed and 11 citations on other violations. Seven felony cases were passed on to superior court; 146 tickets resulted in orders to juvenile authorities, during January.

More than 95 per cent of the January ticket recipients simply forfeited bail, without putting in a court appearance, the records indicate.

"People will test you," Judge Thomas said, to learn whether the court will either dismiss a ticket or lower the fine, "but all you have to do is let it be known that we don't do that in Marin County."

Not even public officials, to whom ticket recipients have turned for help, try any pressure in Marin, the traffic judge said. "I've seen them come in with a whole bunch of other people's tickets—and pay for them all," Judge Thomas reported. "We give them receipts. I've talked to some of them later, and they tell me they haven't lost a cent on doing this." He did not say whether this law-abiding successor to the traditional "I know somebody" technique garnered any votes for the public officials.

The system of handling traffic tickets in Marin County mitigates against "fixing." Once the officer has written a citation, what happens is practically inevitable, and very much a matter of record.

Daily, each law enforcement agency send copies of all traffic citations to the municipal court office in San Rafael, together with a separate list of all citation numbers. After the tickets are checked against this list, a court clerk's aide looks up the bail called for under a statewide bail schedule. This amount is noted on the ticket.

Almost invariably, the person cited will call the clerk's office, as instructed on a small sheet the officer is supposed to hand over at the same time he gives the ticket. If the offender sends in and forfeits the bail, that is the end of the case if the offense is minor.

Offenders who ignore tickets, however, find that the court's system is thoroughgoing, with a long memory and a long arm.

After the original date for court appearance has passed, the clerk issues a warning letter, and announces that the bail has gone up. If this is ignored, a warrant usually is issued.

There are some exceptions. Parking tickets against out-of-state cars, particularly in tourist-bustling Sausalito, often are dismissed on recommendation of the issuing department, to save warrant service and prosecution expenses which would outweigh any fines gained. The citing officer also may recommend dismissal of such cases as correction of faulty equipment or no driver's license in possession at the time of the citation.

However, once the ticket has gotten to the court, the judge must initial any dismissal action except the "not in possession" offense. The state law provides especially for dismissal of this charge if a valid license is proved to the court's aides, Mrs. Lemke explained.

Another sort of ticket often dismissed by the court without trial is the parking citation issued to Marin citizens summoned to jury duty, then forced to wait half a day in the courtroom to learn whether they will be sworn as jurors. The county parking lot is reserved for actual jurors; veniremen must park on San Rafael streets, Judge Thomas explained.

The out-of-state and jury duty categories account for almost all parking ticket dismissals.

San Anselmo Police Chief Raymond R. Buchignani and Corte Madera Chief Frank L. Nelson explained that parking tickets sometimes are issued to out-of-towners who don't know the parking rules, but come to the station to clear up the matter before the ticket is sent to the court.

Nelson, who heads an association of Marin County police chiefs, said that he, personally feels the judges and the district attorney uphold police safety enforcement efforts well.

San Rafael's Future Is Topic

Four leading citizens will discuss San Rafael's future tomorrow at 9 a.m. on radio station KTIM's "Marin Sounding Board."

Participants in the hour-long program will be San Rafael Mayor John F. McInnis; Jack Alvarado, executive secretary of the San Rafael Chamber of Commerce; Irving Chapman, owner of Chapman Shoes and other property in downtown San Rafael, and Frank Fogarty, former manager of the J. Pilots Blast Insurance At Airports

By MORTON A. REICHEK
Advance News Service

WASHINGTON—The Air Line Pilots Association (AFL-CIO) says flight insurance sold at airports is a "temptation, incentive, and motive for sabotage."

Urging Congress to curb its sale, the pilots' union said insurance easily available through counter sales and vending machines is a temptation to "unstable personalities who might desire to directly profit financially by airborne murder or hastily provide estates for their heirs by airborne suicide.

The association recommended the curtailment of airport trip insurance sales and establishment of the same "screening safeguards" that apply to sale of other forms of insurance.

There have been 18 known or suspected airline bomb incidents over the past 30 years, according to the current issue of the association's monthly magazine.

The publication said that at least six fatal, sabotage-linked crashes have occurred in the United States since 1955, killing 27 crew members and 183 passengers.

Of 200 killed in airline crashes during 1964, the magazine said, 44 lost their lives in the crash of a Pacific Air Lines plane en route from Reno to San Francisco last May. The aircraft crashed when a deranged passenger shot the pilot and copilot. An investigation showed that the passenger was heavily in debt and had purchased $105,000 worth of trip insurance prior to his departure.

The pilots union said there have also been numerous incidents of unsuccessful sabotage attempts and other cases of airline accidents in which sabotage might have been undetected.

Edward A. Tippe of Silver Springs, Md., a United Airlines pilot who is chairman of pilots association's committee on airline sabotage, complains that "anyone with a handful of quarters can buy as much as $250,000 worth of quickie life insurance without even being checked."

The pilots contend that airport insurance is "outdated and obsolete because air line travel no longer involves unusual risks requiring special coverage."

The Federal Aviation Agency recently conducted a study of the impact of aviation insurance on the sabotage problem. Its report, which was prepared by an insurance industry executive, recommended no curbs on airport insurance sales.

Says Tappe: "This was like asking Charles H. Ruby, president of our association, to resolve a national issue as to whether pilot pay, pension plans, and working conditions should be improved."

Sandbar Dredging Is On Agenda

To dredge or not to dredge the sandbar between Pacific Ocean and Bolinas Lagoon to enable larger boats to enter the lagoon will again be discussed by Bolinas Harbor District commissioners at 8 p.m. tomorrow at Bolinas Community Center.

"We have had four proposals from engineers," said Commissioner Clyde W. King. One said the $8,000 budgeted for dredging by the commission would be money "poured down the drain" unless bulkheads are built first. Another said money is better spent for a turning basin either in the channel or just outside the channel in the lagoon.

Another question is whether the sandbar should be dug by hydraulic or clam shell dredges, said King.

Bonn to Continue Search For Nazis

BONN, Germany (AP) — Chancellor Ludwig Erhard's government today changed its mind about giving up the hunt for Nazi murderers and said it would help Parliament to see justice done.

The Cabinet agreed unanimously, Erhard's spokesman said, that contrary to what had been thought up to now it is possible that new crimes may be discovered after May 8. Under present law, the hunt for Nazi murderers would end on that date, since virtually no prosecutions could be undertaken after it.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

VAN DELLEN

It is difficult and often unwise to change the lifelong habits of oldsters. My philosophy is to let them alone unless they are doing something detrimental to their health. Most problems along this line center about diet and almost every day I receive a letter from a worried daughter: "What shall I feed my 70-year-old mother who lives with us?"

THE AGED NEED fewer calories because they are less active. In addition, their basal metabolic rate is 10 per cent less than that of younger adults. There is no need for concern when they ask for smaller servings, provided they are not undernourished. There is no foundation for the belief that proteins should be lessened because they are "hard on the kidneys." It is true that the rate of tissue growth is slower in old age, but proteins are needed to replace worn-out tissues. Meats, liver, fish, chicken, skim milk, cheese, eggs, and cereals are excellent nutritional building blocks and should not be decreased with advancing years.

Fat consumption should be reduced because of its high caloric count and its relationship to hardening of the arteries. But this seldom is a problem because most senior citizens eat less of everything, including fats. Carbohydrates are less expensive, available in a variety of items, and are easy to chew and digest.

THERE ARE SOME special considerations. Oldsters need calcium and the dairy products are a good source. Iron deficiency is noted frequently but can be corrected by increasing the intake of green vegetables, cabbage, brussels sprouts, peas, beans, lentils, and meats. The vitamin need is supplied through variety.

Roughage helps prevent constipation. The excessive use of salt should be taboo. And there is no harm in a glass of sherry before dinner and brandy as a sedative.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.)

LET 'ER GO

L. R. writes: Is it harmful to supress a sneeze?

REPLY

Yes, because the back pressure may send the nasal secretions into the sinuses or ears. There also are instances in which arteries in the eye and brain have ruptured. Sneeze into a paper tissue or handkerchief or hold the hand in front of the mouth.

IS CURVATURE INHERITED?

W. R. writes: Is there a hereditary factor in curvature of the spine?

REPLY

No. Poor posture, especially during adolescence, is the most common cause. Infections, arthritis, and fatigue are possibilities.

ENLARGED KIDNEYS

S. T. writes: My son recently had one kidney removed because of hydronephrosis. Will you say something about this disease in your column?

REPLY

This condition represents an enlargement of a kidney caused by an obstruction. Infection and the back pressure of the urine injure the delicate kidney tissues and removal of the organ is suggested when the damage is irreparable.

County Plans To Give Beaches To Seashore

Marin County supervisors took the advice of their congressman yesterday and agreed to give Drake's and McClure's beaches to the federal government as part of Point Reyes National Seashore.

They also talked of asking other Bay Area counties to help explain to Congress why the estimate of cost of land for the seashore has shot up in three years.

The actions came as supervisors pondered a letter from Rep. Donald H. Clausen, R-Crescent City, and talked to the national seashore's realty officer, Thomas Kornelis.

Clausen's letter, first read last week, said the keepers of congressional purse strings would undoubtedly ask harsh questions this year about why the estimated cost of land ecquisition has risen to $30 million above the $14 million authorized in 1962.

Kornelis said the answer was obvious: Land values in West Marin have skyrocketed as subdivisions have begun to take the place of farms and ranches.

In 1962, Kornelis said, the National Park Service estimated it would cost $25 million to buy up the land. Congress approved only the $14 million. Now the estimated cost has reached $44 million, he said.

He predicted the total would continue to climb until the seashore got the money to finish buying up its land.

Clausen also had warned that the county's putting a price tag on the two beaches might do more harm to the seashore's cause than was justified by the amount of money the county might gain.

Supervisors concurred after Kornelis predicted the county probably could get little more than $15,000 for its share in Drake's Beach.

Supervisor Thomas T. Storer at first moved that the county agree to a quit-claim deed on both beaches, but County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney asked that legal details of the transaction not be carried out until he can confer with the United States solicitor general on the best way of doing it. Supervisors agreed.

Chairman Peter H. Behr promised he would come to next week's session with a draft of a reply to Clausen.

Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen said he felt other counties should also help supply Clausen with ammunition in his quest for the funds, since their residents would also use the seashore. Behr said he would include this in the letter.

Four New Scholarships Offered By Labor Groups

High school students who plan to go on to college in the fall now have a rosy, new incentive to aim for those top honors.

Four scholarships worth $500 each are being offered by Marin County labor organizations for next year, two of which are coming from local union groups for the first time.

Laborers Local 291 will follow the accepted pattern by awarding its scholarship to the eligible senior outstanding in the California Labor Federation's state-wide scholarship competition.

But a special application, available at the union office on Mission Avenue, San Rafael, is required because this award is restricted to members' children.

The other new one is open only to Tamalpais High School seniors who are sons or daughters of members of Carpenters Local 1710. If none qualifies, the cash will be held over until next year and the scholarship doubled.

On offer again is the Carpenters Building Assn. of Southern Marin award, which is available to the children of any Marin County carpenters' union members.

All Marin County high school seniors can aim for the Central Labor Council's 14th annual award, which does not carry union eligibility rules.

Students, in all cases, must file an application for the California Labor Federation scholarship competition. The deadline is March 23.

Successful students will have $250 deposited at colleges where enrollment is accepted and will collect the other $250 after the first semester's work has been satisfactorily completed.

Film Comedy Set For Friday

"The Detective," a whodunit comedy starring Alec Guinness and Joan Greenwood, and a British documentary called "Nightmail" will be shown by the Sausalito Film Society at 8:30 p.m. Friday at Campbell Memorial Hall, Santa Rosa and San Carlos Avenues, Sausalito.

The score for "Nightmail" was written by Benjamin Britten and a verse commentary was written for the film by W. H. Auden.

At 2:30 p.m. Sunday the society will show two films for children at Campbell Memorial Hall. They are "The Red Balloon," a French film about a boy and his adventures with a balloon, and "The Moonbird," the story of a midnight hunt by two small boys for a moonbird. The boys bait the moonbird with its natural food, songs and hard candy.

Films On Moon

Two movies, "Ranger VII Photographs of the Moon" and "Lunar Bridgehead," will be shown to members of the Marin Astronomical Society and the public at 8 p.m. tomorrow at the Louise A. Boyd Natural Science Museum, 76 Albert Park Lane, San Rafael.

TV REVIEW

Les Crane Bows Out On Friday

By RICK DU BROW

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — ABC-TV has fired Les Crane as host of its new late-night show because the network brass feels he has not cut deeply enough into the ratings of his long-established competitor, NBC-TV's Johnny Carson.

Crane will wind up his role as host this Friday, but ABC-TV will continue the late-night entry he inaugurated just three-and-a-half months ago. Starting Monday, its title will be changed from "The Les Crane Show" to "ABC's Nightlife," and, as currently planned, it will feature alternating hosts who will preside until, perhaps, one of them is chosen as a permanent replacement. On the other hand, ABC-TV is also pleased with the idea of its "Hollywood Palace" series, which has a constant flow of guest hosts.

At any rate, the network said yesterday that "ABC's Nightlife" would feature entertainment stars and newsmakers. Whatever the outcome, however, the rather shocking cancellation of a star who apparently was supposed to have been set for at least half a year is indicative of the constant state of panic that rules the airwaves. The problem, of course, is that nowadays, with more and more money involved, a new show has to make it fast — or else. Yet several ABC executives who were themselves startled at the cancellation told me Crane was doing better and better in head-on competition with Carson.

Now, of course, Carson is more solid than ever, both of his new competitors — Crane and Regis Philbin of Westinghouse Broadcasting — having been sacked this week.

THE CHANNEL SWIM: NBC-TV has confirmed that John Forsythe, formerly of the "Bachelor Father" series, will star next season in a weekly half-hour comedy, "The Mr. and the Misses," about a bachelor who inherits an exclusive school for girls, and becomes headmaster.

LITTLEST ORGANIST TRIES TO ENROLL
